

Established in 1869.

"Let us see to it that a Government, of the People, for the People, and by the People, shall not perish from the Earth."—A. LINCOLN.

Terms: $150 per Year

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—No communication published unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.
Correspondents should write upon but one side of the paper, and avoid the use of pale or fancy inks.

FOR NEXT GOVERNOR OF PENNSYLVANIA
ADJT. GEN. D. H. HASTINGS,
Subject to the decision of the Republican State Convention

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.
FOR STATE TREASURER,
HON. HENRY K. BOYER,
of Philadelphia.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY TICKET
For Associate Judge,
MICHAEL M. NUSSER, of Haines township.
For Prothonotary,
WILSON I. FLEMING, of Bellefonte.
For District Attorney,
WM. E. GRAY, of Patton township.
For County Surveyor,
JESSE CLEAVER, of Unionville.
For Coroner,
DR. J. F. WOODS, of Harris township.

EDITORIAL BRIEFS
WHEN it is definitely decided that a new navy shall be built, look for a rise in the price of iron.

THE Republican committeemen should look sharp to it that the party vote is brought out on election day.

THE fact that earnest Republican work now signifies Republican victory later on cannot be too often or too publicly insisted upon.

BRING out the stay-at-home vote on election day. A full vote is what is needed, even though this is an off year. We are not safe without it.

SENATOR DOLPH thinks the adoption of a comprehensive system of coast defense one of the most important and necessary matters for the next Congress to look after.

THE Bethlehem Iron Co. has foreign iron ore at that place piled up as high as ordinary houses, and additional quantities are daily added. It is estimated that not less than 1,000,000 tons are on hand.

THE Governor of Georgia having signed a bill which makes the birthday of Robert E. Lee a legal holiday in that State, any further comment on the subject will be regarded there as "disrespectful" and "sectional."

THE Philadelphia Press says that Governor Foraker, of Ohio, is very, very sick, but not half as sick, as his opponent will be after the election is counted on the 5th of November. This is a prophecy with a guarantee of its fulfillment.

YOUNG men who want to be right and up with the times should ponder the following: "Stephen A. Douglass, Jr., says: 'I am a Republican because the Republican party is always for something, while the Democracy is for nothing until it sees what the Republicans are for, and then the Democrats are against.'"

It is understood that the estimates for the naval establishment for the fiscal year 1890-1891 exceed those of the previous year by $3,000,000. Secretary Tracy will continue to build new war ships and it will require more money to do so. We shall in a few years more have a navy that will be a credit to the country if Congress will only vote the money to pay for it.

In Mississippi the Republicans have withdrawn their State ticket because of the fact that free speech is not permitted. The Democrats down there seem to own everything and have refused the Republicans admission to halls, fields or other places in which to hold meetings. This is a state of affairs which should not be permitted, especially when the Republicans hold the reins of government.

POSTMASTER GENERAL JOHN WANAMAKER, in the interest of trade between this country and Canada, has just issued the following: "Ordered—In accordance with the provisions of Article 12 of the Postal Convention, in force between the United States and the Dominion of Canada, and with the concurrence of the Postmaster-General of the Dominion of Canada, that on and after the first day of November, 1889, packages containing mailable liquids, fatty substances, confections and pastes, be admitted to the mails exchanged between Canada and the United States, provided they are put up in the manner prescribed for such articles to entitle them to transmission in the domestic mails of the country in which said articles are mailed."

Stand by Your Ticket.

Republicans, next week on Tuesday will be the time when you will be called upon to deposit your ballot for the proper person, in your own estimation, to fill the respective offices for which candidates are now in the field.

The campaign is now almost closed and, although it has not been characterized by a great noise and clatter of campaign speakers, yet there has been lots of good solid work done, and the prospects now are very encouraging for the entire success of the whole Republican ticket.

And why should it not be? There certainly are no better men in the field than those running on the Republican ticket. During the entire campaign the democratic papers have tried very hard to find something to bring forward as good reasons why their candidates should be elected, but they have failed utterly. And now when the last week is here there is no reason evident why all good Republicans and all citizens in general who are in favor of good county government, to stick to a man by and vote for the entire Republican ticket.

Don't cut a man. If a democrat or prohibitionist offers to trade with you, don't do it. It will result in more damage than good. Every man on the Republican ticket is worthy of your support and should have it. So remember when you go to the polls next Tuesday to put in a straight republican ticket and persuade your democratic neighbor to do the same.

THE Supreme Court of Iowa recently handed down a decision to the effect that a juror would not be disqualified though he had read all the newspaper reports of a case and though these reports may have made a certain impression upon him, if he should swear that he would be capable of rendering an impartial verdict on the evidence. This precedent, if established everywhere would remove a formidable obstacle to the securing of intelligent juries.

WHEN Jay Gould declares, as he did only two days ago that "trusts are unpopular," it is time for us all to understand one thing. That is, that Mr. Gould can catch a Great Truth and hold on to it without having to hire a boy to help him.

TASCOTT the murderer of millionaire Snell in Chicago has been brought again. This time he was taken in Reading. Just why he visited the capital of Berks does not appear, unless he was lured thither by the spirit of Jackson.

CHARLES McILVAINE, a New York city murderer, was yesterday sentenced to die by electricity about the second week in December, that is, if the electric light companies are willing.

THE Russian mission would be just the thing for Murat Halstead if the seat in the United States Senate occupied by Henry B. Payne were not better.

Dr. Monroe's Lectures.
Rev. Dr. Monroe has turned lecturer and last night enraptured an Altoona audience with his brilliant perorations. The Tribune thus speaks of it:

A large audience filled the lower part of the Eleventh Avenue opera house last evening to hear Rev. Dr. Monroe's lecture on 'Sponge or Reservoir, Which?' The lecture was one descriptive of types of human character, the good being designated as Reservoirs and the bad as Sponges. It was an excellent and scholarly address and the interest was sustained throughout, wit and humor being blended in a masterly manner, and brought forth much applause. The lecture was one of the best ever heard in this city.

THE World's Fair Finance Committee of New York has at last adopted a form of subscription to a guarantee fund of $5,000,000, and subscription books will at once be opened. This is giving practical shape to the enterprise, and the public response will indicate the real feeling in the metropolis in regard to the subject.

"Do you think my editorials on the sin of chewing tobacco have any effect?" asked a reformer of a gentleman whom he had in the corner. "Yes, I know they do. They always remind me that I want a chew."

—Eggs in Tyrone are worth twenty-eight cents a dozen.

THE NEW RAILROAD FEDERATION

Mr. Charles Francis Adams, with his usual originality, has devised a new form of railroad amalgamation. The agreement made by the Union Pacific and the Chicago and Northwestern is neither a pool nor a consolidation; it is more properly a railroad federation, under which each retains local self-government and merges under a common management, jointly chosen, the control of all through business. This cumbersome plan may or may not work; but it is not opposed to the Interstate Commerce law. That act prohibits pooling, but not consolidation, and the new federation is an experiment of the greatest interest in railroad management.

The two lines, which between them have 10,498 miles of road, $307,000,000 of capital, $56,000,000 of gross earnings and $20,000,000 of net, pretty evenly divided, are not merged, consolidated or pooled; but their through business is placed under a joint management and run under a common policy which the relations between the Northwestern and the Vanderbilt lines will extend to New York and Boston. For the first time in its history the country will see freight traffic handled on a common policy from ocean to ocean; the Northwestern and Union Pacific each reach the Pacific and Chicago respectively without the ruinous extensions which have bankrupted their rivals, and the Vanderbilts, alone among the trunk lines, will now enjoy a friendly freight connection to the Pacific.

While the net earnings of the two lines making this limited union are almost exactly equal, their condition is widely separate. The Northwestern, with two-thirds the mileage of the Union Pacific, even in 1888 paid its dividends and has suffered much less than most lines in its section from low rates and wars. The Union Pacific has paid no dividends for five years, although it has invested over $14,000,000 in new lines, and it began last April the task of paying Government interest, which is likely to postpone a return on its stock until its great subsidy debt, five-sixths as large as its stock, is settled. Its new investments on the Pacific Coast are proving profitable, and its condition and command of the freight situation are so steadily improving that the Northwestern gains fully as much as it gives by the new partnership.

This consolidation changes at a stroke existing railroad conditions from the Atlantic to the Pacific. It brings the trunk lines East of Chicago face to face with the competition of what will practically be a continuous line of over 20,000 miles of track, from ocean to ocean, made up of the Vanderbilt trunk lines, the Northwestern and the Union Pacific. The not less important lines just West of Chicago find themselves confronted with a still more dangerous competition due to a union, which gives a rival which has profited by Eastern, an equally strong Western alliance. The difficulties of lines like the Northern Pacific, the Atchafalpa or the Southern Pacific, which stretch out to the West and Southwest, are all increased by the alliance of the Union Pacific with a strong, solvent and energetic line pouring into Chicago. These conditions can not fail to lead to other combinations to meet this federation, and it must quicken the attempts to find an outlet and complete combination for transcontinental trade across the Southern states by way of the Gulf or Chesapeake Bay.

THE promises that were made to follow Republican success at the polls are being realized in a general improvement in the condition of affairs, much to the chagrin of Democrats. In all directions manufactures which had been close are again starting up to be operated at their fullest capacity. Wages are being increased and the working people are more prosperous. The volume of business is increasing immensely. This is as it should be and the fact will be a tower of strength to the Republicans in the contest which is so close. To be sure, the elections to occur on November 5 will not affect business any more than the mere fact which shows the increase of the party which is a friend of the country or of that which is its enemy. But it is important to elect Republicans because that will make the party stronger when an important election occurs, and in that respect will be an aid to business.

THE payment of the relief fund to the Johnstown people goes merrily on, and the voice of the Johnstown grumbler is still for the time.

MAHONE'S CAMPAIGN.

The most interesting political news of the day is that which concerns William Mahone, of Virginia, now engaged in the most desperate campaign for Governor that the old Dominion has witnessed since the time of Henry A. Wise. The more untiring and at the same time a more unscrupulous politician has never been seen in that State than this same Mahone. He is battling with tremendous energy against odds which long ago would have disheartened most men. His exhibition of pluck and grit is something which commands the admiration even of his enemies. The American people have a certain fondness for any man, no matter how bad he may be, who has those qualities, and this is why they feel an interest in the fortunes of Mahone, despite the fact that they may regard him as a mischievous little imp in politics.

Mahone is running for Governor of Virginia as a Republican, but it is difficult to induce most Republicans to regard him as a member of the party. Nowhere has it been more difficult to do this than in his own State. A considerable portion of the most intelligent and reputable Republicans in Virginia refuse to have anything to do with him. They hold him in detestation as an autocratic boss, who has no principle save the elevation of Mahone first, last and all the time. And it may be said with perfect truth that every glimpse which the country has had of his character and methods fully justifies their estimate.

But when we turn to the Democratic party and observe its leaders and the spirit, we are not certain whether Mahone is so much of a rascal after all. A man can hardly be blamed for not being better than the community in which he lives. The truth is that the tone of political morality in Virginia is not high.

Many Republicans, while they do not like the man, think that he may be useful as an instrument in breaking the Solid South. They think that they can afford to overlook his character if he should succeed in accomplishing that salutary end. We know that this would under other circumstances be a great boon to the country. But whether Mahone can be trusted to perform that mission at this time and in his way is a matter for some misgiving. The campaign which he is now waging certainly does not inspire a hope that he will succeed.

Judge White on Duties of Jurymen.

In a case recently tried in the Allegheny county court, the jury, after being out six hours sent down word to Judge White that they were unable to agree on a verdict, the jury standing 11 to 1 and the one would not give in. Judge White had the jury brought into court and in kind, but firm words, informed them he was surprised that they could not agree. The case was a trifling one, and involved hardly anything more than the question of costs, as he had intimated in his charge. His honor stated that the probability was that the one juror was wrong, as there were eleven to one chances that way. The juror should feel that the eleven men were as honest and intelligent as he was. It was not a question of conscience with jurors; that is a mistaken idea; it is simply a question of judgment, and a minority could agree without injury to the conscience. His honor stated that he could not think of discharging the jury, and hoped they would reach a verdict in a few minutes. The obstinate juror was evidently impressed with the judge's remarks, as he immediately gave it to the other eleven, and without leaving the box a verdict of not guilty was handed down.

—The Williamsport Republican edited by J. P. Dwyer and originally a four page paper came out on Monday with a twelve page edition, giving in addition to all the leading news of the day a complete resume of the leading business places in Williamsport and many of the surrounding towns and boroughs. Brother Dwyer seems to intend making a live paper out of that and its record so far is very encouraging.

THE soul of frankness. Mr. Beetsleon—"Would you like the date put in our engagement ring, my dear?" Miss Beryl—"By all means" and then if there's room, run in some little motto like 'Any port in a storm,' or, 'A bird in the hand,' or something pretty like that."

The Closing Campaign.

The absence of any well defined political or personal issue upon which the Democrats could make contest has robbed the campaign which is now drawing to a close of much that might otherwise have been interesting and, perhaps, beneficial to the Republican party. An issue means agitation, and agitation is usually succeeded by renewed party zeal and an increased party vote. Its absence in the present instance has brought about a condition of affairs which, in the light of the importance of next year's campaign, should command the attention and stimulate the activity of every Republican within the borders of the State.

It is the question of majority, and it rests solely with the party workers whether or not it be 5000 or 50,000. There is no disaffection in the Republican ranks. There are no old wounds to heal or differences to adjust in this campaign. The party is a unit upon the question of Mr. Boyer's fitness for the pace. If, however, the Republicans expect to win with credit to the party they must work.

It is everywhere apparent that the Democrats have been conducting, or attempting to conduct, a still hunt this Fall. They are counting upon a heavy falling off in the Republican vote over that of last November, as the result of over confidence and carelessness. It remains to be seen whether or not these calculations will be fulfilled and Henry K. Boyer elected by a majority which will be anything but an inspiration for the important contest of next year, or whether he will win with a vote in his favor which will be a rebuke to his political enemies. To compass the latter result nothing that will contribute in the slightest to success must be neglected. The lukewarm members of the party must be impressed with the importance of the coming election; the stay-at-home voter must not be permitted to rest supine and indifferent under his own vine and fig tree on November 5; the disinterested must be interested in the result; this involves earnest and unflinching endeavor upon the part of every Republican between now and election day and nothing short of this will elect Mr. Boyer with the majority to which he is entitled.

Postal Reform.

The conference of post office inspectors at Washington is only one of the many indications of Postmaster General Wanamaker's interest in improving the postal service. He has been gathering opinions and suggestions from all the experienced men in the department, and with the aid of Congress he will no doubt, in the near future bring about many improvements in the service.

It has not advanced in recent years in keeping with the needs of the country. But the responsibility for this failure to keep up with the pace of the telegraph and express companies is probably more due to Congress than to the head of the department. And Congress has, generally speaking, been influenced by a lack of confidence in the business capacity of the Postmaster General. There will be no such feeling in Mr. Wanamaker's case. His business capacity is beyond question, and recommendations will be certain to have great weight.

Ex-Postmaster General Dickinson thinks that there is need of a different organization of the department. It is his belief that the country should be divided into districts with superintendents, after the manner of the organization of the express and telegraph companies. This suggestion aims at a good purpose, and may be worthy of careful consideration. The time of the head of the department is now too much taken up with the petty details of appointments and listening to complaints. He should be as free to direct the general affairs of the department and improve the service as is the president of an express or telegraph company.

Mr. Wanamaker is particularly well qualified to effect a better organization, if he finds the need of it, and his method of conferring with his experienced subordinates shows that he is alive to the necessities of the case. Good results will be sure to follow, providing Mr. Wanamaker has the co-operation of Congress.

"How do you like my new ball dress John?" asked the young wife "Oh, you look beautiful," replied the young husband; "but you are wrong in asking how you look in it. 'Why?' 'Because you are head and shoulders out of it.'"

GENERAL NOTES.

William Gore, of Lima, O., died the other day of nose-bleeding.

They have been catching lobsters and sharks in the Hudson river lately.

A 90-year-old drummer boy of the war of 1812 was married in Iowa to a 65-year-old woman.

The town of Orlando, Fla., has an ordinance forbidding saloons to be less than 200 feet apart.

Last month 851 applicants were refused admission to the public schools of Jersey City for want of room.

Lyman Davis, the oldest man in New York, died recently in Salisbury in that State. He was a farmer, aged 114.

A grampus nearly 40 feet long went ashore at Cape Smell Point, Me., and the finders are figuring on 30 barrels of oil.

Two Cincinnati firms were to unite on November 1, but as that day is Friday the consolidation has been postponed until a later date.

Ed. Lansing, of Troy, recently killed a buck that weighed over 320 pounds. This was the largest deer shot in the Adirondacks this season.

A Bridgton, Me., man believes in the honesty of postal clerks. He got a letter the other day one end of which was burst open, disclosing a $10-bill.

Ninety-two and 68 were the respective ages of a couple married in Marlborough, N. H., last week. It was the fourth marriage and the bride's second.

A gourd 34 feet long is one of the products Annie Lowe (colored), of Marietta, Ga., raised in her garden this year. She has 15 of these gourds, some of them four feet long.

Elder Punkum, an Etna, Me., Adventist, heard a boy blow one of the new fangled whistles on Friday and thought it was the signal for the consummation of earthly things.

Bees that for seven years made a home of an unused chimney near Knightville, Me., were recently routed, the building being torn down, and more than a tub full of honey found.

At Platt City, Mo., a tragedy was prevented the other day by a looking glass. A woman was in the act of shooting her husband in the back and was saved by seeing the reflection in the mirror.

A conscience wave is sweeping over the land. The Secretary of the Treasury has just received a letter containing four-cent stamps, which the writer says is the amount, with interest, of two stamps which he used twice.

Two "breaches" Bibles, dated 1610, in an excellent state of preservation, belonging to the Rev. G. Pratt, late incumbent of St. Margaret's, Herts, were sold by auction at Hertford, England, and fetched 70s. and 50s. respectively.

A dog saved the Commercial House at Adrian, Mich., from destruction on a recent morning. Fire broke out in the barroom at 4 o'clock, but his barking brought help before the building became involved. Forty guests were asleep in the hotel.

An Indian boy was wading in the Feather river, in California, near the Golden Gate mine, Thursday, when a large fish carried off the great toe on his left foot. The little boy wants to die, because his companions will call him "Nine-toed-Jimmy."

Mrs. McAulow, one of the owners of the Spoiled Horse Mine, of Montana, recently drove into Helena in a buckboard, unattended, carrying a gold brick worth $40,000. It took two porters and a truck to get the heavy mass of gold from the wagon into the bank.

A gambler, was buried in Montana a week or two ago, and next morning an anchor, formed of playing cards, was found on his grave. Somebody seems to have thought that the most appropriate way to deck his grave was to eucher deck it.

An animal supposed to be a bear is prowling around Taunton, Mass. A night or two ago it raided a dairyman's farm, upset his milk cans and had a fight with his dog. He fired a shot at the intruder, but didn't shoot straight, and the brute made off unharmed.

A sturgeon 14 feet long was caught in the Sacramento river, near Chicago, last week. Instead of killing it the fishermen fastened a rope to the body and turned it loose in the river to get fat. They feed it on the entrails of Salmon, and the captive likes the treatment.

The tallest smoke stack in the United States was finished Friday. It will be connected with the 40 boilers of the four new mills of the Fall River Iron Company. It is 350 feet in height, and cost $40,000. Two chimneys in Glasgow, Scotland, are higher, one being 454 feet and the other 435 feet.

According to a calculation made at the United States Legation at Paris, it is estimated that 50,000 Americans have visited the Exhibition. The Matin, reckoning the expenses at Paris of each of these visitors at 5,000f, calculates that the total sum they must have spent there cannot be less than 250,000,000f.

A lady drove up to a Bangor, Me., drug store and vigorously waved her hand for a clerk. When he appeared she asked for a bottle of anti-fat. While paying for it she said she had heard it would "grow leanness" on a person, and as she weighed 380 pounds, she thought she would "reduce." The horse looked dejected and careworn as he started homeward.

Our Story Teller.

A COMMERCIAL VENTURE.

It was a sharp October evening, the street lamps were struggling faintly through a haze of yellow fog—the dead allanhus blossoms rattled overhead as if the tree in front of Mrs. Medlaw's red brick house had blossomed full of little rattle boxes.

And Mrs. Medlaw had just sat down to her evening reflection of toast and tea, when Polly, the little maid, who always wore green checked gingham and carpet slippers, came shuffling.

"Please, ma'am, there's two young ladies down in the parlor as says you're their aunt."

"Oh, bother!" said Mrs. Medlaw in a sort of soliloquy, "it's Edna and Ella. I knew they'd come on me when their father died. As if I hadn't anything else to do but support a swarm of lazy relations. Why didn't you say I wasn't at home, Polly?"

"I would, ma'am, if I'd a supposed they was any relations of your'n, before I'd let 'em in," said unconscious Polly. "But they was dressed so nice and looked so chipper I thought, of course, they was real ladies!"

"And just as the tea was boiling, too," said Mrs. Medlaw. "Oh, dear me, what a world this is!"

Edna and Ella Carr were sitting, pale and black robed, in the mouldy smelling little parlor, when their aunt came in. They were pretty girls, with delicate, wax white complexions, hair so dark that it gave the impression of being black, and great blue-gray eyes.

"Well, girls," said Mrs. Medlaw rather ungraciously, "so you've come here?"

"We had nowhere else to go aunt," said Edna meekly.

"Humph," grunted the old lady. "Take off your things. I suppose you calculate to stay all night? Well and what are you going to work at?"

"We don't know, aunt," said Ella, trying hard not to cry.

"Well, ain't it high time you had?" said Mrs. Medlaw. "Folks can't live on air. And two great, grown-up girls like you ought to be doing something to earn their salt. There's always plenty of work for willing hands. I've had to foreclose a mortgage on a little fancy store. I want to put some one in it to sell out the stock. I'll give you a fair commission on what you sell. Come, what do you say to that?"

"I am willing to try," said Ella. "Heaven knows I am anxious enough to earn my own living."

"And I too," said Edna. "We know nothing about a business."

"But you can learn, I suppose," said Aunt Medlaw.

"But we can learn," said Edna hopefully.

In less than a week the little thread and needle store around the corner, which had presented a grim and shuttered front for some days, was reopened and two pretty girls dressed in black were posted behind the counter.

Mrs. Mopson sent her two little boys to match a skein of green worsted, and inquire for peppermint taffy first. The widow Hope purchased a little hosiery and three cheap pocket handkerchiefs. A small girl came to ask the time of day, an old man bought a pair of suspenders, all within an hour—and Edna and Ella began to think they might, in time, develop into commercial characters of note.

To be sure business waxed rather dull toward the end of the day, but just at dusk a tall, nice looking young man came in to buy a card of pearl shirt buttons. Ella took down a box, and they were quite a long time in selecting the prettiest pattern and the most appropriate.

"I forgot one thing," said the young man after he had contracted for an eighteen cent investment. "I must have them sewed on. Could you do it?"

"I'll try," said Ella, laughing. "If you'll bring the shirts around."

So the young man brought the shirts and sat down to wait. Ella's needle flew deftly in and out. He was in a hurry he told her. He was foreman in the printing office of a great daily paper, and worked at night, when the rest of the world was asleep, like a bat or an owl.

In the meantime Edna was trying to suit an old lady in green spectacles, who wanted some green ribbon whose color she did not exactly know, whose width she wasn't certain about, and whose quality she had yet to make up her mind concerning. But Edna's patience, tact, and good temper were inexhaustible. At last the old lady was suited and went away rejoicing on the arm of her nephew, who had manifested extraordinary interest in the shade of drab ribbon.

"That's a nice girl, Oswald," said she. "Do you know I almost think that she might suit me as a companion. She seems so very good humored. I wonder if it would do to ask her if she would like a situation?"

"I don't see why not," said Oswald Grey, thinking he never had seen softer gray eyes or prettier hair. "Shall we go back?"

"To-morrow is time enough," said Mrs. Martigny.

On the morrow she came back. "Didn't the ribbon suit?" asked Edna.

"Oh, yes, the ribbon was all right, but there's something else I want."

"What is that?" asked Edna innocently.

"A companion to read to me, take care of my canaries, and play drowsy old tunes on the piano when I feel sleepy. I give $500 a year, Saturday afternoon and board. Will you come?"

Edna looked at her sister. Five hundred dollars a year seemed a great sum for the girl who had never yet earned five for herself. "Yes go, Edna," said Ella. "I can manage the store by myself easily enough. And, in a whisper, I've taken a contract to make a dozen new shirts for Mr. Lessner, he is to find the material."

"Who is Mr. Lessner?"

"Oh, the printer. I can do it at odd minutes, when there is no one in the store."

At the end of the month Edna came to report to her sister.

"Well, Edna, how do you like it?" asked Ella.

"Oh, so much! Mrs. Martigny is queer, but she is kind. And—and—Mr. Oswald Grey, her nephew, is very polite."

"Is he?"

"Yes," said Edna, fingering a box of hooks and eyes. "I like him ever so much, and he likes me. To tell the truth, Ella—"

"I see," said Ella, putting her arms around her sister. "he wants you to be his companion for life, eh, Edna?"

"How did you know?" faltered dimpled Edna.

"O, I'm not quite a fool," said Ella. "But now I've got something to tell you I finished Mr. Lessner's shirts, and they fitted him perfectly. He says I'm the only woman he ever knew who fitted him with shirts on the first trial. He has saved up a little property and he wants to invest it somewhere, and Aunt Medlaw wants to sell out this store. So he's going to buy it and I'm going to keep it on condition that I marry him."

"O, Ella?"

"Not such a very hard condition either," said Ella, "because he's very handsome, and very pleasant, and I like him very much; in fact, I believe I'm in love with him. There, now, it's all out. And I do believe, Edna, we're the happiest girls in the world, and all through Aunt Medlaw's thread and needle store."

"Well, well," grumbled Mrs. Medlaw, "so the girls are gone, and I'm by myself again. It is rather lonesome. They were nice girls—but the young men found it out as well as me. Young men always do find such things out."

Columbus wasn't Much of a Fellow.

"On my last trip through Indiana," said a New York drummer recently, "three or four of us put in a night at the tavern in a small town. It was kept by a broadfaced innocent looking old chap, and in order to guy him a bit the boys put him on that I was Christopher Columbus, the discoverer of America. The old fellow gave me considerable attention, fixed up the best room in the house and introduced me to his aged wife. Next morning while I was smoking a cigar, he came along and queried:

"Let's see. What did you do?"

"Discovered America," I soberly replied.

"Oh, yes."

He looked disappointed as he went away, and in about ten minutes he returned to say:

"I've had it all wrong about you."

"How?"

"Why, I kinder had it that you was from Washington, and I was thinking you might get my boy Sam into some office."

"No, I'm not."

"You are only Christopher Columbus?"

"T at's all."

"All you ever did to discover America?"

"That all."

"Humph! I'll have to charge you extra for them three biled eggs this morning and the ole woman thinks you ought to have an extra quarter for making real coffee for you. You orter told me last night that you didn't amount to nothin'."

She had been listening to a base ball conversation, when she asked: "Is he crazy, Charley?" "Who?" "Why the fellow who chased a fly into the field and afterward went out on a fowl."

Eupespy.

This is what you ought to have, in fact, you must have it to fully enjoy life. Thousands are searching for it daily, and mourning because they find it not. Thousands upon thousands of dollars are spent by our people in the hope that they may attain this boon. And yet it may be had by all. We guarantee that Electric Bitters, if used according to directions and the use persisted in, will bring you Good Digestion and instill the famous Dyspepsia and install instead Eupespy. We recommend Electric Bitters for Dyspepsia and all diseases of Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Sold at 50c and $1.00 per bottle at W C Kephau & Co's 8 ore.

A STORY OF THE WAR.

Vermont Marksmanship Which Astonished the Mississippian.

The disposition of Americans to exaggerate is especially prominent in what is known as American humor. A story associated with 'picket-firing,' during the Civil War, brings out this feature of national character.

One day there was a truce between the two hostile picket lines.

"Ho, Yank!" cried out a lank Mississippian, who had just been posted. "Can you fellows shoot?"

"Wal, Johnny, I guess we can some! Can you?"

"Shoot!" shouted back the Confederate, "why down in Mississippi we knock a bumblebee off a thistle-blow at 300 yards!"

"Oh, that's nothin' to the way we shoot up in Vermont! I belonged to a company up ther' of a hundred men, and every week we used to go out to practise. The cap'n would draw us up in single file, and set a cider barrel rollin' down hill! Each man took a shot at the bung-hole as it turned up."

"The barrel was then examined, and if there was a shot found that didn't go into the bung-hole, the man that fired it was expelled. I belonged to the company 10 years, and there ain't been nobody expelled yet."

All the World Reduced to a Big Nickle.

From the Detroit Free Press.

Yesterday Grimes met his friend Brindle, the tramway conductor.

"Brindle, do you really miss a street occasionally through carelessness, or is it for some other reason? Why, for instance, did you carry Miss Twirler across Brighton avenue, when she plainly told you to let her off at Plugsong's Lane?"

Brindle poked his red fist in his eye, thought it all over carefully and said cautiously:

"Well, sir, you see it's all on how you regards folks. I goes through the coach often an' never sees a mortal soul. I gets used to ringin' up five here an' five there, an' five, five, five, five all day an' all night that—"

"What is it, Brindle?"

"That, sir, I regards the whole world as one big nickel piece, an' the people as comes with me an' as fills my car as so many round, starin' nickels a-sittin' on these here seats! Fare, please! Thank you, sir, five again!"

A Good Method.

The little republic of Switzerland has adopted a new scheme in tax paying which seems to be a good one.

It is for the benefit of the poorer classes, who find the payment of the year's taxes in a lump sum inconvenient.

They can now pay their dues to the Government in installments, small or large, as they happen to have the money to spare.

Stamps of various denominations have been issued, which can be purchased in any quantity, and when a sufficient amount of stamps have been purchased to cover the buyer's taxes, they are presented to the tax collectors and a receipt is given.

Such a method of paying taxes promotes thrift, for small sums, which might otherwise be spent for needless trifles, will be laid out for stamps, and thus the taxes will be paid without missing the money.

The method, which might be called "Tax Paying Made Easy," would operate to advantage in the payment of city and county taxes in this country.

Was It a Vision.

Amelia Martin in Hall's Journal of Health.

We were having a new home built and my husband went to it every day to see what progress was being made.

One day, as he stood in the front room upstairs, his attention was attracted to the street. Looking out the window he saw a funeral procession passing from the door and out through the gate. The casket was small, white, and covered with flowers. He recognized friends and neighbors in the crowd, and, through some indefinable impression, he understood that the corpse was that of his son, though he had no son at the time. Surprised and startled at the thought, he saw the procession vanish, and he felt unable to account for the experience. Within a few months a little son was born to us, and before three years it was carried out of the gate in a flower covered white casket and followed by the same friends my husband had seen that noontime long before. What explanation can be given of this circumstance?

The Aliments of Railroad Men.

According to M. Duachene railway men improve in health during the first four years, but at the end of ten years they are tried out, in fifteen they are actual sufferers, and very few can remain in the service after twenty. Dr. Lichtenberg of Buda Pesth, says that out of 250 railway employees ninety-two, or more than a third, suffered from some disease. Engine drivers are especially liable to rheumatism and pneumonia, and after some years' service a certain proportion of them become dull of sight and hearing. Others suffer from a mild form of spinal concussion, muscular feebleness, and continuous pains in the limbs. They are also apt to develop a peculiar mental state—a sort of cerebral irritation—with excessive nervousness and morbid sensibility of fear.

Made Rich by Molasses Cakes.

Maria Bivins, a well known colored woman residing near this town, is dead. She was 56 years old, and for more than thirty years she has been engaged in making and selling molasses cakes, from which she accumulated quite a comfortable little fortune. Both she and her husband were born in slavery, as were several of their children. She accumulated enough money before the war to purchase the liberty of herself and husband, and during the war and before emancipation she made enough out of the Federal soldiers quartered here to purchase her children. After the war she bought a farm near this town, on which she employed her husband, paying him seventy-five cents a day during the spring and summer months, and fifty cents during the winter. She used two barrels of flour every month in the manufacture of cakes, always making 3,600 cakes out of each barrel. During the long period she was engaged in this business, it was estimated she had made nearly 4,000,000 of cakes. She was an honest, industrious woman, and enjoyed the respect of all who knew her.—Olancook (Va) Special.

A Lively Old Custom.

A strange sight was witnessed at the water trough in the livery stable of Harry Levan, in Reading, the other day. A young man named Moore, who had hired a team, returned to the stables, when it was noticed that the horses had been overdriven and abused. Without any ceremony the young man was lifted bodily and thrown into the trough. His best Sunday suit was ruined. This is an old custom in Eastern Pennsylvania. One of the veteran liverymen of the State is Hiram Schiller. At his extensive stables in Reading the men in charge frequently throw dudes into the horse trough. Sometimes customers, after using teams, have no money to pay your bills. Those who are professional beats are invariably thrown headlong into the water, summer or winter, if they fail to pay their bills, or if they return the teams in bad condition. In this way the liverymen have more satisfaction and are more protected than if they went to law.

The November Elections.

State elections will be held on Tuesday, November 5, in the following States:

Pennsylvania will elect a State Treasurer.

Ohio will elect Governor and State officers.

Virginia will elect Governor and State officers.

Mississippi will elect Governor and State officers.

Maryland will elect Comptroller and Attorney General.

Massachusetts will elect Governor and State officers.

Nebraska will elect a Supreme Court Judge and two Regents.

Iowa will elect Governor and Lieutenant Governor and other officers.

New York will elect State officers, except Governor and Lieutenant Governor.

The overwhelming sentiment of the Presbyterian church favors prohibition of the liquor traffic. The other great denominations the Methodists, Baptist, and Lutherans, all occupy the same ground. Most of the smaller denominations are outspoken in their delectation of the liquor crime. Of the other denominations which occupy a more conservative attitude, thousands of their ministers and members are earnest believers in Prohibition and will be satisfied with nothing less. So many earnest men and women banded together for a common purpose must exercise a great influence, and nothing is more certain than the eventual triumph of the cause. Liquor dealers are in an exuberant mood at present because the effort on behalf of constitutional prohibition has recently failed in a number of States, and they are trying to persuade themselves that Prohibition is dead. No doubt they will have comparative immunity during the next few years while the people are learning the utter futility of all efforts to restrict and restrain the brewer and bartender. But the end is inevitable. The example of Kansas and Iowa and Maine will surely be followed by all the other States and the law will put the liquor seller in his true place, in the ranks of dangerous criminals.

All the new Woodens for the coming season now being received—Liberal discount for early orders during the dull season. Our full stock will be the finest we have ever shown—Prices and a good fit guaranteed.

MONTGOMERY & Co., Tailors.

WAS AT HOME ALL THE TIME.

An Embellishing Allentown Bookkeeper Causes a Sensation.

A great many Allentown people were surprised on Monday by the appearance on the street of Professor Waldemar K. Grossman, the embellishing bookkeeper of Johnston & Swartz, wholesale grocers. More surprising than the Professor's reappearance is the fact that he has not been in Canada, as most people supposed, but that for the past two years and a half he has been enjoying the comforts of his pleasant home in Allentown.

The laws of Pennsylvania are so regulated that the Professor will now escape punishment for his misdeeds. He is charged with embezzlement, an offense that the statutes place in the category of misdemeanors. Limitation takes place in two years, provided the offender remains in the State during that time, and as Grossman is prepared by a number of witnesses to prove this fact it is likely that he will escape without even the formality of a trial.

Grossman owns a splendid library, which was saved out of the wreck following the discovery of his crookedness, and it was amid his books in a pleasant room on the second floor that he whiled away his time. He made his appearance on the street on Saturday night, and had he risen from the grave he could not have caused greater surprise to the people who met him. His attorneys and about a dozen intimate friends knew of his presence, and how they succeeded in keeping the secret is almost as much of a wonder as the fact that Grossman was there these years is a surprise. He was visited regularly by his attorneys, who were supposed to call at the house to bring his wife "news" about her husband in Canada, he being reported to be a teacher of music in Montreal. This story was circulated to divert suspicion from the frequent visits of his counsel to his wife. In his enforced retirement he read the papers regularly, and no doubt often enjoyed the accounts of the local papers as to his doings in Canada. Surrounded by wife, friends and books, and all the comforts of a home, he managed to get fat during his enforced retirement. While he was hiding to escape trial for embezzlement his only child died. The funeral took place from the house of a friend.

In January, 1887, Grossman resigned by request the position of bookkeeper for Johnston & Swartz. He had been with them sixteen years, and was getting rich at the firm's expense. He got $1,200 a year and lived at the rate of $5,000. He had a furniture factory, employing over one hundred hands, and he seemed to be on the highway to fortune.

For some months prior to his resignation the suspicion of members of the firm as to his integrity had been aroused and an investigation of the books showed that for five or six years he had been systematically appropriating considerable of his employers' cash to his private uses. An expert made the amount of his embezzlement $25,000, and the figures would have been larger but for the disappearance of the cash books for two years and a few check books.

An investigation showed that some days he took $300 and hardly a day that there was not some crookedness. In 1886 his shortage was $4,200. It was by the manipulation of the cash and the check books that he swindled the firm. When charged with the crime he denied the truth of it, but when confronted with the evidence he wilted and acknowledged his guilt, saying the amount of his shortage was only $4,000.

A Cure for Leprosy.

A cure for leprosy has been found, says Mr. Clifford, the last European to visit Father Damien. It is gurgun oil, the product of a fir tree which grows plentifully in the Andaman Islands. It was discovered by Dr. Dougall, and Mr. Clifford was "assured by Sir Donald Stewart, who was then governor of the islands, and who has sent me the official report, that every single case in the place was cured by it. The lepers were convicted and it was therefore possible to enforce four hours a day of rubbing the ointment all over their bodies and the taking of two small doses internally. In some of the cases the disease was of many years standing, and the state to which it had reduced its victims was indescribably dreadful; yet after eight months the sufferers were able to run and to use a heavy pickaxe, and every symptom of leprosy had disappeared." Father Damien tried it, but too late.

One of Many.

Victor, N. Y., Feb. 1st, 1887.

Mr. O. F. Woodward, Dear Sir: Send me 1 gross Kemp's Balsam, 50c size, and a few samples I certainly know that Kemp's Balsam is the best selling cough cure. I have fifteen other cough and lung remedies on my shelves, and Kemp's Balsam sells 10 to 1 best of all. Respect fully yours, F. E. Conn. Sold by all druggists at 50c and $1.00. Sample bottle free.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Every great and commanding movement in the annals of the world is the triumph of enthusiasm.

Here the witness broke down and began to cry. On cross examination it was admitted that she was promised that her sentence would be changed to imprisonment for life if she went on the stand. Mrs. Dillard was then taken back to jail and the trial of Bartholomew ended.

That is a significant item which announces that the class day orator of the graduating class at Harvard university is a colored man. His name is Clement Garrett Morgan, and he hails from Washington, D. C. He was elected by a good majority and some of his support was from students born and bred in the South. It is encouraging to know that this graduating class is composed of young men who are superior to vulgar caste prejudices and who have the courage and the honesty to recognize and reward merit, even though it be lodged in a black skin.

Beware of a silent dog and a wet rat. The sting of reproach is the truth of it.

Envy shoots at others and wounds herself. Vows made in storms are forgotten in calms.

Zeal without knowledge is like fire without light.

What we call time enough always proves little enough.

He who waits to do a great good at once will seldom do anything at all.

A little seeing saves much looking; a little speaking saves much talking.

He who does not engage in the quarrels of others will have few of his own.

It is a good thing that all souls are not of a size, as there would be no large ones.

Gratitude is the music of the heart when the chords are moved by kindness.

The world was never so full of opportunities for young men of good thoughts as now.

He that has little knowledge is far from likely to get more than he that has none.

The fountain for wealth and fortune is good health, good habits, care, industry and honesty.

People are never so fortunate or so unfortunate as they suppose themselves to be.

A higher morality, like a higher intelligence, must be reached by a slow growth.

Let friendship gently creep to a height; if it rush to it, it may soon run itself out of breath.

He who saith that there is no such thing as an honest man you may be sure is himself a knave.

Every great and commanding movement in the annals of the world is the triumph of enthusiasm.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Every great and commanding movement in the annals of the world is the triumph of enthusiasm.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Every great and commanding movement in the annals of the world is the triumph of enthusiasm.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Every great and commanding movement in the annals of the world is the triumph of enthusiasm.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Every great and commanding movement in the annals of the world is the triumph of enthusiasm.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Every great and commanding movement in the annals of the world is the triumph of enthusiasm.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Every great and commanding movement in the annals of the world is the triumph of enthusiasm.

Mrs. Fangle (reading the paper)—Sarah Bernhardt says her household expenses at Paris average $500 a day. Mrs. Cumso—She must keep three hired girls—New York Sun.

Permanent Positions Guaranteed.
 With Salary and Expenses Paid
 Great advantages to beginners. Fast-Selling
 Specialties. No experience needed with us. OUTFIT SENT FREE. Write quick and get choice of territory, stating age.
 (Name This Paper)
HOOVER NUMBERS.
 21 15 41 Rochester, N. Y.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS.
Red Cross Diamond Brand.

The only reliable pill for sale. Safe as sore. Ladies, ask Druggists for the Di- mond Brand, in Red metal boxes, and with blisssims. Taken other, Send-(stamps) to particular and to Relief for
Send" in letters by mail, Send Chichester Chemical Co., Madison Sq., Philada., Pa.

21 45 41

FASHIONABLE BARBER AND HAIR DRESSER,
Flashed rooms and experienced workmen under the Centre county bank building High street
Bellefonte, Pa.

Banks and Bankers.

E. C. HUMEN, Pres't.....J. F. HARRIS Cash'
FIRST NATIONAL BANK of Bellefonte
Allegheny Street, Bellefonte, Pa. vcm-1

Philadelphia..... 4 25 a m

Eric Mail West, Niagara Express West, and Niagara Express East make close connection at Lock Haven with B. E. V. R. R. trains.

Eric Mail East and West connect at Erie with train on L. E. & N. R. R. with B. P. & V. N. N. at Emporium, with N. Y. & P. R. R. and at Driftwood with A. V. R. R.

ROBERT NEILSON General.

you would or should give any other important matter, it can no do other wise than pay. I speak to you in the light of a year's experience and "I am giving it to you straight."

LITTLE LOCALS.

—There are now ten prisoners in the Bellefonte jail.

—Lewistown is to have a republican newspaper about April first, 1890.

—Twenty indictments have been found against a New Orleans ex-treasurer for forging state bonds.

—It can truly be said of Sheriff Cooke that he keeps the jail in a very clean and respectable condition.

—The boom in the price of potatoes has spent its force. The western states are now shipping them east by the train loads.

RAFFLING MATCH.—At residence of S. F. Cherry. Methodist Hill Saturday evening Nov. 2. Turkeys, Ducks, chickens and one pair of fine pigs.

o30-4t F. E. GINTER.

—The remains of Mrs. Baton, colored, who died in Altoona on Sunday, were brought to this place on the 4.20 train on Monday evening and were interred in Union cemetery Tuesday.

—The rumor current on the streets last night to the effect that a murder had been committed at the nail works yesterday evening, was simply a canard gotten up to create a sensation.

—That was a cool Scottish "aside" of an old dealer, who, when exhorting his son to practice honesty in his dealings, on the ground of its being the "best policy," quietly added, "I have tried both."

—James N. Sweely, publisher of the Williamsport Sun and Banner was yesterday arrested on a charge of criminal libel. He waived an examination and was held for his appearance at court in the sum of $500.

—The immense freight blockade that had for some time existed on all the main railroad lines has finally been made away with. There is yet, however, a tremendous freight traffic but the railroad companies have increased their facilities to meet the demand.

—The coming winter may be a hard, cold, snowy, icy, wintry winter, but the opening of cotton mills, shoe factories, iron foundries and various other industries in this State and in other States indicates that it will be as busy and prosperous as any the country has known for years.

—That dreaded scourge diphtheria has broken out in Mill Hill in a malignant form and several children have died of the disease. A child of William Emert was buried yesterday. Since last night a child of Daniel Snyder, one of George Snyder and one of George Bowers have died. There are several other cases in the town.

—The new frame church which the Evangelical association is erecting on their lot on Willow Bank street, is nearing completion. Mr. C. H. Evey, of Lehigh, has the contract for the carpenter work and, with a good corps of able assistants he expects to have the building ready for occupancy before old winter sets in.

—David B. Allen, one of Union township's prominent citizens was in Bellefonte on Monday. Mr. Allen is a veteran of the late war and was a member of Co., E, 45th Regt. P. V. He was unfortunate enough to be captured by the enemy and spent several months in rebel prisons, from the results of which he still suffers greatly.

—The ladies of the Presbyterian church have determined to hold a series of entertainments the first week of each month during the coming winter and spring, which they trust, from their variety and the social enjoyment they will afford, will commend them to their many friends. On the evening of November 7th, they will have a "Martha Washington supper" in the room adjoining the Post office and during the first week in December they will have a Fair where persons in search of Christmas presents will find a large and choice supply to select from.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

The World's Fair.—Chicago vs New York Killing by Electricity.—The Newspapers.

New York, Oct. 28th, 1889.

One of the most exciting topics of conversation, and of newspapers discussion, just now, is the contemplated World's Fair for 1892. More interest is evinced in this matter than in the approaching fall election. A preliminary subscription for $5,000,000 has been started, and this amount will probably be obtained during the present week. The enterprising editor of the New York World subscribed $50,000. Other notable citizens are subscribing liberally. But is the rival to New York for this honor, and is moving with great impetuosity to secure the holding of the Exposition there. While New York was spending a good deal of time in trying to fix upon an exact site for the Fair Chicago more properly gave its first attention to the raising of the money, and has already gotten a subscription of $8,000,000.

CHICAGO

This Fair, which is to be organized for the purpose of showing to ourselves, and to the whole world the wondrous evolutions effected on this continent, from almost entire primeval conditions, during the period of four hundred years, ought to be held, by right, in New York, the great metropolis of the Western World. To place it in any other city would seem to be an incongruous setting. The thousands of shipments of exhibits that would be sent from all parts of the world, and the thousands of foreign visitors should find the terminal point in this great city and not be subjected to the extra tax of the long overland freightage, and passage, to Chicago. So, the people of the country may consider it a fixed fact that the great World's Fair, in 1892, is to be held in New York.

KILLING BY ELECTRICITY.

This sort of killing has been in operation in this city for some months; not the legalized electric killing of murderers in view of hanging, but the accidental killing, produced by the poorly insulated wires strung through our streets by the Electric Lighting Companies. The Mayor has prohibited the use of such wires, and there will be a vigorous fight between the city authorities and these corporations. In the meantime our citizens will have to be satisfied with the duller illumination of gas light. The contrast is great, and under cover of the increased darkness increased wickedness abounds, burglaries and murder have been more frequent. But soon the wires will be run under ground and then danger to human life will be far less.

THE NEWSPAPERS.

The New York World is making rapid progress in the construction of its new printing house. This will be the largest and most expensive newspaper building in the United States, and the best equipped. The enterprise of this paper is amazing. Last week the World circulated 2,260,530 copies. The Sunday editions have 34 pages. Joseph Pulitzer's electric force seems to have communicated new life and energy to all the daily papers in New York; and certainly has increased by hundreds of thousands the daily readers of newspapers. The papers improve,—the readers multiply, and the power that governs in this country is broadening in intelligence every day.

A $250 prize is offered by the World for the best editorial that may be sent in before Christmas. Some of your Bellefonte editors better do it in to win.

HIRAM TORREY.

Mrs. Fortney, widow of the late Col. John W. Fortney, has returned to Philadelphia and with her daughter and son is at her present home on Washington Square, in the house occupied by Colonel Fortney for upwards of twenty years previous to his death. Wednesday would have been the fiftieth anniversary of his marriage had he lived. Many friends remembered the circumstance and sent Mrs. Fortney pleasant letters and souvenirs of the occasion.

"Did not the sight of the boundless blue sea, bearing on its bosom white-winged fleets of commerce, fill you with emotion?" "Yes," replied the traveler, "at first it did; but after a while it didn't fill me with anything. It sorter emptied me."

HER appetite caught him.—Ed—"Why did you marry Miss Elsie?" "Al—" "Because she's no fraud. I asked her at the ball what I should get her from the supper table." Ed—"Well?" "Al—" "And she said instead of cream and jelly, bring me some rare roast beef, a little chicken salad and a bottle of claret."

TO ADVERTISERS!

How to GET THE MOST SERVICE FOR THE MONEY!

The Advertiser who would be willing to pay twenty-five cents for every family who could be "educated" up to the value of his goods would thus devote $3,000,000 to educate the 12,000,000 families which make up the 60,000,000 of the United States. This sum would do the business thoroughly in a year, for it is sufficient to pay for the insertion of a full column in every issue of every publication, and for resetting the matter, making it new in every issue of each separate publication. We will receive and execute the contract.

$5,000 One of the most successful Advertisers we ever had always ordered his advertisements in this way, "Get the best service you can for me for $5,000," leaving every detail to us. We were thus enabled to say to a Publisher, if you put this in at a large reduction from your rate it will be no criterion for further transactions. It was a surprise to find ourselves so often able to contract for the insertion of that particular advertisement at half rates, in papers which would not permit us to OFFER their columns at a penny's deviation from a printed schedule. The advertising rates of one New York paper are double those of another which has twice the circulation of the first. Similar discrepancies are not uncommon. The advertisement entrusted to us to be placed in accordance with our judgment often does double service for half the money. A dollar for twenty-five cents.

$1,000 If we are given authority to insert advertisements to a limited amount, in such mediums as offer inducements which seem to us specially favorable, we shall not abuse the confidence reposed in us, and shall render statements of whatever is done (if anything) from day to day. When TRUSTED with the placing of an advertisement, we are put upon honor, and are bound in honor to give the best service possible for the money to be used.

$500 Leading Newspapers, especially the leading Agricultural Newspapers, frequently issue large special editions (of twenty, fifty, a hundred, or even five hundred thousand copies,) and solicit advertisement orders from us on terms which would often be accepted by our patrons if there was time to invite attention to the matter; but the question must generally be decided before there would be time to write and receive a reply, and often the case cannot be fully stated within the limits of a letter.

$250 Prepare a small advertisement and send with check for $250, or any other sum. The practice of asking the Agent to name his papers in advance compels him to name such as are well known, otherwise there is reason to suspect that his judgment is biased,—and the best papers do not like to have their rates quoted below their schedule.

$100 The advertiser who sends his advertisements asking for the best service possible for one hundred dollars, will often get from five to fifty per cent more service for his money, than he would had he required us to tell him in advance exactly what service we would promise; for when an estimate has been given its plan and specifications must, in a general way at least, control the advertising to be done: It ties the Agent's hands and prevents his giving his patrons TO-DAY a better service than he could have promised yesterday, because yesterday the opportunity had not presented itself: to-morrow it may have passed! Some publications are used more economically on contracts for a single issue; in others insertion for a month may be had as cheaply as for a single week; but in furnishing an estimate in advance, if the Agent attempts to go into details, his correspondence becomes voluminous and the advertiser confused.

$50. If you are in the habit of occasionally inserting a small advertisement in a few papers, investing a few dollars and carefully noting the result; we desire you to make trial of our Advertising Bureau, sending us the advertisement and the money, leaving the selection of the papers to us, and judging of the service rendered by results rather than by names, circulation claims or prices. To make up careful estimates calls for much work. It don't pay to make them indiscriminately for every applicant. If such estimates as are asked for were always given the Advertiser who wished to expend $50 would frequently find himself in possession of a scheme which it would cost $500 or possibly $5,000 to carry out.

$10. We devote all necessary care to placing small orders for Advertising—even the smallest! Time is saved by sending check with the order. Often the Advertiser is not possessed of sufficient information on the subject to enable him to judge of the merits of an estimate for advertising, and he decides by the footings of the figures whether he will or will not do the work. Yet the estimate binds the Agent and makes it improper for him to make any variation in its specifications, however much his judgment may point to material changes which ought to be made. This is specially liable to be the case when the order comes a con-

THE RECONCILIATION.

Two urchins strolling on the beach,
Beside the tranquil sea,
Beheld a pearly block, and each
Cried, "That belongs to me!"
And both at once with eager hands,
Began to scramble in the sands.

Like alabaster pure and white,
Upon the pebbled shore,
That treasure lay, a lovely sight,
And well worth fighting o'er;
Long struggled the contending twain
The prize so coveted to gain.

Lo, while they strove, a stranger tall,
Strode quickly to the spot,
He stooped beside the champions small,
And took the prize, I wot;
Then spoke in solemn voice and slow,
"Ye both are richer than you know."

Then with a string he did divide
That precious cake, and smiled;
"Tis Ivory Soap, share it with pride;
My lads, be reconciled!"
Each took his half and went his way,
Oh, rich and happy boys were they.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

Copyright 1886, by Procter & Gamble.

considerable time after the estimate was made.

GEO. P. ROWELL & CO.,
NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING BUREAU,
10 Spruce St., New York.

A bear with a thumb was announced as Wilkesbarre curiosity. The thumb formerly belonged to John Van Buskirk, and the bear bit it off.

Two women each carrying a large rattlesnake around her waist, have been visiting Connellsville trying to secure a purchaser for the reptiles.

A steer ran ahead of a locomotive a quarter of a mile on the Perkimon Railroad at Emans, crossing a bridge in its flight, and escaping safely.

In order to remove some oil stains from his wagon a Pottstown expressman applied a match. His stable had a narrow escape from destruction.

QUEER INCIDENTS IN THE STATE

Some Strange Stories Recorded in Various Corners of the Commonwealth From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

The lightning that killed Edward Jacquard in Meadville lately, broke every bone in his body and turned the flesh black.

Jesse King, of Norristown, has a letter received six weeks ago from Weather Prophet Devoe, predicting the recent storm.

On the farm of James W. Rober of Lebanon is a pear tree which has borne a large crop of fruit this season and is again in full bloom.

Take
Hood's
Sarsaparilla
100
Doses
One Dollar

The Chief Reason for the great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is found in the article itself. It is merit that wins, and the fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla actually accomplishes what is claimed for it, is what has given to this medicine a popularity and sale greater than that of any other sarsaparilla or blood purifier.

Merit Wins
Hood's Sarsaparilla cures Scrofula, Salt Rheum and all Humors, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Biliousness, overcomes that Tired Feeling, creates an Appetite, strengthens the Nerves, builds up the Whole System. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

SALESMEN
WANTED to canvass for the sale of Nursery Stock. Steady employment guaranteed. Salary and Expenses paid to successful men. Apply at once, stating age. Mention this paper. CHASE BROS. CO., Rochester, N. Y.

NOTICE is hereby given that an application will be made to the Court of Common Pleas of Centre County on the twenty-fifth day of November A. D. 1889 at 10 o'clock a. m. under an act of assembly entitled "an act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations" approved April 10 1874 and the supplements thereto for the charter of an intended corporation to be called "The Bellefonte Church of the Evangelical Association of North America in Centre County State of Pennsylvania, the character and object of which is the promotion of the interest of religion in our midst and the spread of Scriptural Holiness throughout the World."

CLEMENT DALE, Solicitor.

THE WONDERFUL LUBURG CHAIR
Combining a Parlor, Library, Smoking, Recreating, or Invalid Chair. PRICE $7.00 up. We make the largest variety of Adjustable, Reclining, Physicians' and Surgeons' Operating, Invalid, Folding, Homeseat, Office, Library, and Parlor Chairs. Also, Rockers, Bicycles, Tricycles, Velocipedes and Self Propellers. ALL KINDS OF APPLIANCES FOR INVALIDS. BABY COACHES. Over 100 different designs. Our Patent Automatic Brake on all Carriages, Tricycles, Bicycles, and Velocipedes, by placing your orders direct with the makers you can save several per cent. Our standard price and special Bargains will astonish you. Goods sold under a government Patent. Delivered free to any point in United States. ELY send stamp for Catalogue, and state class of goods you wish to buy.

LUBURG MFC. CO.
145 North Eighth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

ELY'S CREAM BALM
Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Allays Pain and Inflammation, Heals the Sores, Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell.

TRY THE CURE.
A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists. By mail, registered, 60 cents. ELY BROTHERS, 66 Warren St., New York.

FREE
$50 Solid Gold Watch
sold for $100, until lately.
But $50 watch is the world's best. A perfect timekeeper. Warranted. Hunting Cams. Both ladies' and gents' styles, with works and cases of equal value. One Person in each locality can secure one free. Together with our large and valuable line of Household Goods. Samples. These samples, as well as the watch, we send FREE, and after you have kept them in your home for 3 months and shown them to those who may have called, they become your own property. Those who write at once can be sure of receiving the Watch and Samples. We pay all express, freight, etc. Address: Winslow & Co., Box 315, Portland, Maine.

$3 PANTS $3

HIS PANTS
WERE ELEGANT.

Perfect Fit and were made to order from self-measurement, by us,

FOR THREE DOLLARS.

Send three 3-cent stamps For Twenty Samples of Cloth to select from, and rules for self-measurement. Money returned if not suited. We cheerfully refer you to any Express Company or Mercantile Directory as to our responsibility. Send at once for all the latest styles. Address:

EMPIRE
State Pants Co.,
163 & 165 CANAL STREET,
Near Bowery, NEW YORK CITY.

274 1/2
Near Bowery, NEW YORK CITY.

Coal !

Coal !

Coal !

EDWARD K. RHODES

SUCCESSOR TO

Lawrence L. Brown,

AT OLD YARD NEAR PASSENGER STATION.

WILL SELL ONLY THE BEST QUALITIES

—OF—

ANTHRACITE, BITUMINOUS

and WOODLAND COAL.

BY STRICT ATTENTION, FAIR

DEALING AND REASONABLE

PRICES HE HOPES TO DESERVE

THE PATRONAGE OF HIS

FRIENDS AND THE PUBLIC.

—ALSO—

Kindling Wood,

Corn Ears, Shelled Corn, Oats and

Baled Hay,

CONSTANTLY FOR SALE IN SMALL LOTS

EDWARD K. RHODES,

221 1/2 (Brown's Old Yard, near Passenger Station)

E REKA

GROCERY

COMPANY,

BELLEFONTE

High St, Bush Arcade,

NEXT DOOR TO THE POST OFFICE

DEALERS IN

-Teas, - Coffees,-

AND ALL KINDS OF

FAMILY GROCERIES

ALSO AGENTS FOR CENTRE COUNTY

FOR THE SALE OF THE CELEBRATED

Bedford Springs

MINERAL WATER

ALL KINDS OF

COUNTRY PRODUCE

RECEIVED IN EXCHANGE.

GOODS SOLD AT

Lowest Market Prices

CALL AND SEE US.

A. V. SMITH, Storekeeper.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Best and Purest Medicine EVER MADE.
It will drive the Humor from your system, and make your skin clean and smooth. Those Pimples and blotches which mar your beauty are caused by impure blood, and can be removed in a short time, if you are wise and use the great blood purifier, SULPHUR BITTERS.
Why suffer with Headache? Why suffer with indigestion? Why suffer with nervous prostration? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Rheumatism? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Gout? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Gravel? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Dropsy? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Consumption? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Scrofula? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Syphilis? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Eczema? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Psoriasis? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Lichen? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Vitiligo? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Alopecia? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Lepra? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Elephantiasis? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Cancer? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Melancholia? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Mania? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Epilepsy? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Hysteria? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Neurasthenia? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Neuritis? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Neuralgia? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Nephritis? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Pyelitis? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Cystitis? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Prostatitis? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Hemorrhoids? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Piles? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Varicose Veins? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Ulcers? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Burns? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Scalds? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Frostbite? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Erysipelas? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Tetanus? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Rabies? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Cholera? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Typhoid? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Typhus? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Malaria? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Yellow Fever? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Dengue? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Zika? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Chikungunya? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Ebola? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, HIV? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, AIDS? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Cancer? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Leukemia? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Lymphoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Multiple Myeloma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Osteosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Ewing's Sarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Chondrosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Fibrosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Liposarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Rhabdomyosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Smooth Muscle Sarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Epithelial Sarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Germ Cell Tumor? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Teratoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Choriocarcinoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Embryonal Carcinoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Neuroblastoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Wilms' Tumor? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Rhabdomyosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Ewing's Sarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Chondrosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Fibrosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Liposarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Rhabdomyosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Smooth Muscle Sarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Epithelial Sarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Germ Cell Tumor? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Teratoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Choriocarcinoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Embryonal Carcinoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Neuroblastoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Wilms' Tumor? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Rhabdomyosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Ewing's Sarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Chondrosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Fibrosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Liposarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Rhabdomyosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Smooth Muscle Sarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Epithelial Sarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Germ Cell Tumor? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Teratoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Choriocarcinoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Embryonal Carcinoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Neuroblastoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Wilms' Tumor? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Rhabdomyosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Ewing's Sarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Chondrosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Fibrosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Liposarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Rhabdomyosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Smooth Muscle Sarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Epithelial Sarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Germ Cell Tumor? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Teratoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Choriocarcinoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Embryonal Carcinoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Neuroblastoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Wilms' Tumor? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Rhabdomyosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Ewing's Sarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Chondrosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Fibrosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Liposarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Rhabdomyosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Smooth Muscle Sarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Epithelial Sarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Germ Cell Tumor? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Teratoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Choriocarcinoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Embryonal Carcinoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Neuroblastoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Wilms' Tumor? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Rhabdomyosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Ewing's Sarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Chondrosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Fibrosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Liposarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Rhabdomyosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Smooth Muscle Sarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Epithelial Sarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Germ Cell Tumor? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Teratoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Choriocarcinoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Embryonal Carcinoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Neuroblastoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Wilms' Tumor? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Rhabdomyosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Ewing's Sarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Chondrosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Fibrosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Liposarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Rhabdomyosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Smooth Muscle Sarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Epithelial Sarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Germ Cell Tumor? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Teratoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Choriocarcinoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Embryonal Carcinoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Neuroblastoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Wilms' Tumor? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Rhabdomyosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Ewing's Sarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Chondrosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Fibrosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Liposarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Rhabdomyosarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Smooth Muscle Sarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Epithelial Sarcoma? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Germ Cell Tumor? Why suffer with that terrible, painful, distressing, and dangerous disease, Teratoma? Why

—Tis the last hat of summer,
Left sad and alone,
Its straw-bulb companions
Are faded and gone.
Oh, why does it wear
So long to stick;
'Tis winter—go ask him
To shoot it real quick.
—The moon will soon give light.
—Frosts are generally dew before they come.

—Partridge shooting is legal until November 1.

—Mince pies are beginning to loom up attractively.

—Wild turkeys are plentiful in Lycoming county.

—The Opera House at Philipsburg is to be heated by steam.

—Several days past have been superb corn-busking weather.

—Again the desire is expressed for a mail box at the station.

—The beauty of the famous flower bed at the station has faded.

—When are the Presbyterians to have their next entertainment?

—The hand tied cravats are becoming very popular and fashionable.

—No distinctively new styles seem to characterize the dress of the girls this fall.

—Hunters are now spending all the time they can in the woods, and this community seems to have its full share of would-be Nimrods.

—Quite a number of deer have been seen in Southern Pennsylvania. Small game is also very plenty—the result of close enforcement of the State laws.

—The ladies who are managing the Star Course of entertainments say that the admission to the course will be only $2.25, which is wonderfully reasonable.

—Miss Annie Bilger, daughter of D M Bigler, of Artic Springs, near Philipsburg, was thrown from a buggy during a runaway a few days ago and her face was badly bruised.

—Bellefonte has a very comfortable, pleasant post office room, excellent postmaster and first-class clerks, and the steam heat in the room makes the temperature delightful.

—The jury which is now trying the Cronin murder case in Chicago seems to be an excellent one if we may judge by the names. All but one of the twelve were born in this country.

—The remains of Mrs. John T Fowler were conveyed from Philadelphia to Tyrone, on Friday morning. Religious services were held in the Presbyterian church and the burial was made in Tyrone cemetery.

—The Bellefonte papers are publishing more politics to the square inch than any other papers in the United States, and if people believe what they say every candidate and most of the editors are villains of the deepest dye.

—In Chester county all but four members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union and all of the Young Women's Christian Temperance Union withdrew from the Union and have organized the Woman's Christian Temperance League of Chester county. The reason assigned is because of the part the Union is taking in politics, of which the Chester county ladies disapprove.

A Dig in the Ribs.

If on the right side and lower part of the diaphragm, though playfully meant and delivered, is calculated to evoke profanity from a chappy whose liver is out of order. When that region is sore and congested, pokes seem fiendish. Look at a man's countenance as you prod him under the ribs. If his skin and eyeballs have a yellow tinge, you may infer also that his tongue is furred, his breath apt to be sour, that he has pains not only beneath his ribs, but also under the right shoulderblade. Also, that his bowels are irregular and his digestion impaired. Instead of making a jocose demonstration on his ribs, recommend him to take, and steadily persist in taking, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the finest anti-bilious and alterative medicine extant. Incomparable is it, also, for dyspepsia, rheumatism, nervousness, kidney trouble, and fever and ague.

—Eastern bankers, co-operating with home capitalists, are about to inaugurate the greatest industrial enterprise attempted in the vicinity of Pittsburgh for years. The invested capital will be $3,500,000. On a tract of 600 acres, embracing one and one-half miles of river front in the Monongahela Fourth pool, there will be erected, among other factories, plate-glass works 1500 feet long, and employing at the outset nearly 3000 men. The purchase price of the tract was $350,000, and the operations were closed and deposits made on Friday. A city is to be built in the same manner as Jeanette was, and the project in all its bearings is a colossal one.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became a Woman, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

—The work of removing the unknown dead and their reinterment in a plot especially for that purpose is progressing. It is the intention to erect neat head stones at each grave, and a full description of each body, with a memorandum of every article likely to lead to identification, will be kept in a permanent record. Over $5,000 have already been subscribed for continuing the search of the dead, and subscriptions are still coming in freely. The work will be commenced within a few days and prosecuted with vigor.

—The Cameron Coal, Coke and Iron Company have spent the past three months erecting coke ovens. The company is an excellent one, but they have certainly been especially unfortunate in the tramp jobber who took the contract for erecting these ovens. Among the workmen who have been in this tramp jobber's employ were James Hayes, O W Brickley and William Long, of Howard, and George Hoover, of this place. Mr. Hayes told us on Wednesday that not one of the men has received a dollar of pay during all that time, and from an examination of the affairs of the aforesaid tramp jobber the prospects are that they will get none, which is certainly a great misfortune to them. We believe however, that law can punish a contractor of this sort and it seems to us that the Company should have employed a reliable contractor.

—The beauty of the famous flower bed at the station has faded.

—When are the Presbyterians to have their next entertainment?

—The hand tied cravats are becoming very popular and fashionable.

—No distinctively new styles seem to characterize the dress of the girls this fall.

—Hunters are now spending all the time they can in the woods, and this community seems to have its full share of would-be Nimrods.

—Quite a number of deer have been seen in Southern Pennsylvania. Small game is also very plenty—the result of close enforcement of the State laws.

—The ladies who are managing the Star Course of entertainments say that the admission to the course will be only $2.25, which is wonderfully reasonable.

—Miss Annie Bilger, daughter of D M Bigler, of Artic Springs, near Philipsburg, was thrown from a buggy during a runaway a few days ago and her face was badly bruised.

—Bellefonte has a very comfortable, pleasant post office room, excellent postmaster and first-class clerks, and the steam heat in the room makes the temperature delightful.

—The jury which is now trying the Cronin murder case in Chicago seems to be an excellent one if we may judge by the names. All but one of the twelve were born in this country.

—The remains of Mrs. John T Fowler were conveyed from Philadelphia to Tyrone, on Friday morning. Religious services were held in the Presbyterian church and the burial was made in Tyrone cemetery.

—The Bellefonte papers are publishing more politics to the square inch than any other papers in the United States, and if people believe what they say every candidate and most of the editors are villains of the deepest dye.

—In Chester county all but four members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union and all of the Young Women's Christian Temperance Union withdrew from the Union and have organized the Woman's Christian Temperance League of Chester county. The reason assigned is because of the part the Union is taking in politics, of which the Chester county ladies disapprove.

—Eastern bankers, co-operating with home capitalists, are about to inaugurate the greatest industrial enterprise attempted in the vicinity of Pittsburgh for years. The invested capital will be $3,500,000. On a tract of 600 acres, embracing one and one-half miles of river front in the Monongahela Fourth pool, there will be erected, among other factories, plate-glass works 1500 feet long, and employing at the outset nearly 3000 men. The purchase price of the tract was $350,000, and the operations were closed and deposits made on Friday. A city is to be built in the same manner as Jeanette was, and the project in all its bearings is a colossal one.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became a Woman, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

—The work of removing the unknown dead and their reinterment in a plot especially for that purpose is progressing. It is the intention to erect neat head stones at each grave, and a full description of each body, with a memorandum of every article likely to lead to identification, will be kept in a permanent record. Over $5,000 have already been subscribed for continuing the search of the dead, and subscriptions are still coming in freely. The work will be commenced within a few days and prosecuted with vigor.

—The Cameron Coal, Coke and Iron Company have spent the past three months erecting coke ovens. The company is an excellent one, but they have certainly been especially unfortunate in the tramp jobber who took the contract for erecting these ovens. Among the workmen who have been in this tramp jobber's employ were James Hayes, O W Brickley and William Long, of Howard, and George Hoover, of this place. Mr. Hayes told us on Wednesday that not one of the men has received a dollar of pay during all that time, and from an examination of the affairs of the aforesaid tramp jobber the prospects are that they will get none, which is certainly a great misfortune to them. We believe however, that law can punish a contractor of this sort and it seems to us that the Company should have employed a reliable contractor.

—The beauty of the famous flower bed at the station has faded.

—When are the Presbyterians to have their next entertainment?

—The hand tied cravats are becoming very popular and fashionable.

—No distinctively new styles seem to characterize the dress of the girls this fall.

—Hunters are now spending all the time they can in the woods, and this community seems to have its full share of would-be Nimrods.

—Quite a number of deer have been seen in Southern Pennsylvania. Small game is also very plenty—the result of close enforcement of the State laws.

—The ladies who are managing the Star Course of entertainments say that the admission to the course will be only $2.25, which is wonderfully reasonable.

—Miss Annie Bilger, daughter of D M Bigler, of Artic Springs, near Philipsburg, was thrown from a buggy during a runaway a few days ago and her face was badly bruised.

—Bellefonte has a very comfortable, pleasant post office room, excellent postmaster and first-class clerks, and the steam heat in the room makes the temperature delightful.

—The jury which is now trying the Cronin murder case in Chicago seems to be an excellent one if we may judge by the names. All but one of the twelve were born in this country.

—The remains of Mrs. John T Fowler were conveyed from Philadelphia to Tyrone, on Friday morning. Religious services were held in the Presbyterian church and the burial was made in Tyrone cemetery.

—The Bellefonte papers are publishing more politics to the square inch than any other papers in the United States, and if people believe what they say every candidate and most of the editors are villains of the deepest dye.

—In Chester county all but four members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union and all of the Young Women's Christian Temperance Union withdrew from the Union and have organized the Woman's Christian Temperance League of Chester county. The reason assigned is because of the part the Union is taking in politics, of which the Chester county ladies disapprove.

—Eastern bankers, co-operating with home capitalists, are about to inaugurate the greatest industrial enterprise attempted in the vicinity of Pittsburgh for years. The invested capital will be $3,500,000. On a tract of 600 acres, embracing one and one-half miles of river front in the Monongahela Fourth pool, there will be erected, among other factories, plate-glass works 1500 feet long, and employing at the outset nearly 3000 men. The purchase price of the tract was $350,000, and the operations were closed and deposits made on Friday. A city is to be built in the same manner as Jeanette was, and the project in all its bearings is a colossal one.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became a Woman, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

—The work of removing the unknown dead and their reinterment in a plot especially for that purpose is progressing. It is the intention to erect neat head stones at each grave, and a full description of each body, with a memorandum of every article likely to lead to identification, will be kept in a permanent record. Over $5,000 have already been subscribed for continuing the search of the dead, and subscriptions are still coming in freely. The work will be commenced within a few days and prosecuted with vigor.

—The Cameron Coal, Coke and Iron Company have spent the past three months erecting coke ovens. The company is an excellent one, but they have certainly been especially unfortunate in the tramp jobber who took the contract for erecting these ovens. Among the workmen who have been in this tramp jobber's employ were James Hayes, O W Brickley and William Long, of Howard, and George Hoover, of this place. Mr. Hayes told us on Wednesday that not one of the men has received a dollar of pay during all that time, and from an examination of the affairs of the aforesaid tramp jobber the prospects are that they will get none, which is certainly a great misfortune to them. We believe however, that law can punish a contractor of this sort and it seems to us that the Company should have employed a reliable contractor.

—The beauty of the famous flower bed at the station has faded.

—When are the Presbyterians to have their next entertainment?

—The hand tied cravats are becoming very popular and fashionable.

—No distinctively new styles seem to characterize the dress of the girls this fall.

—Hunters are now spending all the time they can in the woods, and this community seems to have its full share of would-be Nimrods.

—Quite a number of deer have been seen in Southern Pennsylvania. Small game is also very plenty—the result of close enforcement of the State laws.

—The ladies who are managing the Star Course of entertainments say that the admission to the course will be only $2.25, which is wonderfully reasonable.

—Miss Annie Bilger, daughter of D M Bigler, of Artic Springs, near Philipsburg, was thrown from a buggy during a runaway a few days ago and her face was badly bruised.

—Bellefonte has a very comfortable, pleasant post office room, excellent postmaster and first-class clerks, and the steam heat in the room makes the temperature delightful.

—The jury which is now trying the Cronin murder case in Chicago seems to be an excellent one if we may judge by the names. All but one of the twelve were born in this country.

—The remains of Mrs. John T Fowler were conveyed from Philadelphia to Tyrone, on Friday morning. Religious services were held in the Presbyterian church and the burial was made in Tyrone cemetery.

—The Bellefonte papers are publishing more politics to the square inch than any other papers in the United States, and if people believe what they say every candidate and most of the editors are villains of the deepest dye.

—In Chester county all but four members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union and all of the Young Women's Christian Temperance Union withdrew from the Union and have organized the Woman's Christian Temperance League of Chester county. The reason assigned is because of the part the Union is taking in politics, of which the Chester county ladies disapprove.

—Eastern bankers, co-operating with home capitalists, are about to inaugurate the greatest industrial enterprise attempted in the vicinity of Pittsburgh for years. The invested capital will be $3,500,000. On a tract of 600 acres, embracing one and one-half miles of river front in the Monongahela Fourth pool, there will be erected, among other factories, plate-glass works 1500 feet long, and employing at the outset nearly 3000 men. The purchase price of the tract was $350,000, and the operations were closed and deposits made on Friday. A city is to be built in the same manner as Jeanette was, and the project in all its bearings is a colossal one.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became a Woman, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

—The work of removing the unknown dead and their reinterment in a plot especially for that purpose is progressing. It is the intention to erect neat head stones at each grave, and a full description of each body, with a memorandum of every article likely to lead to identification, will be kept in a permanent record. Over $5,000 have already been subscribed for continuing the search of the dead, and subscriptions are still coming in freely. The work will be commenced within a few days and prosecuted with vigor.

—The Cameron Coal, Coke and Iron Company have spent the past three months erecting coke ovens. The company is an excellent one, but they have certainly been especially unfortunate in the tramp jobber who took the contract for erecting these ovens. Among the workmen who have been in this tramp jobber's employ were James Hayes, O W Brickley and William Long, of Howard, and George Hoover, of this place. Mr. Hayes told us on Wednesday that not one of the men has received a dollar of pay during all that time, and from an examination of the affairs of the aforesaid tramp jobber the prospects are that they will get none, which is certainly a great misfortune to them. We believe however, that law can punish a contractor of this sort and it seems to us that the Company should have employed a reliable contractor.

—The beauty of the famous flower bed at the station has faded.

—When are the Presbyterians to have their next entertainment?

—The hand tied cravats are becoming very popular and fashionable.

—No distinctively new styles seem to characterize the dress of the girls this fall.

—Hunters are now spending all the time they can in the woods, and this community seems to have its full share of would-be Nimrods.

—Quite a number of deer have been seen in Southern Pennsylvania. Small game is also very plenty—the result of close enforcement of the State laws.

—The ladies who are managing the Star Course of entertainments say that the admission to the course will be only $2.25, which is wonderfully reasonable.

—Miss Annie Bilger, daughter of D M Bigler, of Artic Springs, near Philipsburg, was thrown from a buggy during a runaway a few days ago and her face was badly bruised.

—Bellefonte has a very comfortable, pleasant post office room, excellent postmaster and first-class clerks, and the steam heat in the room makes the temperature delightful.

—The jury which is now trying the Cronin murder case in Chicago seems to be an excellent one if we may judge by the names. All but one of the twelve were born in this country.

—The remains of Mrs. John T Fowler were conveyed from Philadelphia to Tyrone, on Friday morning. Religious services were held in the Presbyterian church and the burial was made in Tyrone cemetery.

—The Bellefonte papers are publishing more politics to the square inch than any other papers in the United States, and if people believe what they say every candidate and most of the editors are villains of the deepest dye.

Death of an Old Mason.
John Thompson, one of the oldest and best known Masons in the State, died at his late residence, in Philadelphia a few days ago. Mr. Thompson was 91 years old, has been feeble for several years and his death was caused by a general breaking down of the system, due to old age. He entered the Masonic order in the year 1827 and stood firmly during the anti Masonic crusade. He has occupied the highest positions in the order. In the years 1860-'61 he was Grand Master of the Grand Lodge and at different times has occupied the position of Grand Secretary and Grand Treasurer of the Grand Chapter of Pennsylvania, Grand Secretary and Grand Treasurer of the Grand Lodge, Past High Priest of Columbia Chapter, No. 91.

A Few Points.
The recent statistics of the number of deaths show that the large majority die with Consumption. This disease may commence with an apparently harmless cough which can be cured instantly by Kemp's Balm for the Throat and Lung which is guaranteed to cure and relieve all cases. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial size free. For sale by all druggists.

ELECTION PROCLAMATION—GOD SAVE THE COMMONWEALTH. I, Robert Cooke, Jr., High Sheriff of the County of Centre, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby make known and give notice to the electors of the county aforesaid that an election will be held in the said county of Centre, on TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1889,

for the purpose of electing one person for State Treasurer of Pennsylvania.

One person for Associate Judge of Centre county.
One person for Prothonotary of Centre county.
One person for District Attorney of Centre county.

One person for surveyor of Centre county.
One person for Coroner of Centre county.
I also hereby make known and give notice that the places for holding the aforesaid elections in the several boroughs and townships within the county of Centre are as follows, to wit:

For the township of Haines (eastern precinct), at the public school house known as the school house in Hainesburg.

For the township of Haines (western precinct), at the public house of T. G. Edmunds, Aaronburg.

For the township of Half Moon, at the school house in Stormont.

For the township of Taylor, at the house erected for that purpose on the property of Leonard Heston.

For the township of Miles, at the school house in the town of Rebersburg.

For the township of Gregg (southern precinct), at the public school house known as the school house at Gregg.

For the township of Gregg (southern precinct), at the dwelling house owned by J. B. Fisher, at the school house in Stormont.

For the township of Centre Hall, at the public school house in said borough.

For the township of Potter (southern precinct), at the public school house known as the school house in Potter.

For the township of College (eastern precinct), at the school house in Lemont.

For the township of College (western precinct), at the public school house known as the school house in College.

For the township of Ferguson (old precinct), at the hotel of J. A. Decker in Pine Grove.

For the township of Ferguson (new precinct), at the old school house at Baileyville.

For the township of Harris, at the Union Hotel in Jonesburg.

For the township of Patton, at the house of Peter Murray.

For the North ward of the borough of Bellefonte at the school house known as the school house in Bellefonte.

For the South ward of the borough of Bellefonte, at the court house in Bellefonte.

For the West ward of the borough of Bellefonte, at the court house in Bellefonte.

For the township of Banner, at the court house in Bellefonte.

For the township of Spring (southern precinct), at the hotel of Gottlieb Heg, in the village of Pleasant Gap.

For the township of Spring (northern precinct), at the public school house near the Centre Iron Company's works.

For the township of Spring (western precinct), at the school house known as the Fair Grounds school house.

For the township of Walker, at the school house in Harkersburg.

For the township of Howard, at the school house in the borough of Howard.

For the township of Rush (northern precinct), at the school house in Cold Stream.

For the township of Rush (southern precinct), at the public school house in the village of Foxcliff.

For the township of Snow Shoe (eastern precinct), at the school house in the village of Snow Shoe.

For the township of Snow Shoe (western precinct), at the school house in the village of Monksman.

For the township of Marion, at the school house in Jackson.

For the township of Milesburg, at the school house in Milesburg.

For the township of Boggs (eastern precinct), at the school house in Boggs.

For the township of Boggs (western precinct), at the school house in Central City.

For the township of Boggs (southern precinct), at the public school house known as "Walker's School House."

For the township of Heston, at the Silver Dale school house.

For the township of Penn, at the public house kept by W. W. Stichel, at Coburn.

For the township of Mifflin, at the school house opposite the Evangelical Church in said borough.

For the township of Liberty, at the school house in Eagle.

For the township of Worth, at the school house in Fort Meade.

For the township of Burnside, at the house of J. K. Bock.

For the township of Curtin, at the school house near Robert Mann's.

For the township of Union, at the school house in the borough of Unionville.

For the township of Unionville, at the new school house in said borough.

For the township of Mifflin, at the school house at Wheelman's Club House, at corner of Beaver and Second streets.

For the township of the borough of Philipsburg, at the public building at the corner of North Centre and Franklin streets.

For the third ward of the borough of Philipsburg, at the house of William Hest, at the corner of Spruce and Ninth streets.

Notice is hereby given, That every person exercising the rights of the people, who shall be an officer or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of the State or of any city or incorporated district, whether a commissioned officer or otherwise, so long as he or she or any other person shall be employed under the legislative, executive or judicial department of the United States, or of the State, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commission of any incorporated district, or any other officer or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of the State, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commission of any incorporated district, or any other officer or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of the State, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commission of any incorporated district, or any other officer or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of the State, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commission of any incorporated district, or any other officer or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of the State, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commission of any incorporated district, or any other officer or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of the State, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commission of any incorporated district, or any other officer or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of the State, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commission of any incorporated district, or any other officer or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of the State, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commission of any incorporated district, or any other officer or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of the State, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commission of any incorporated district, or any other officer or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of the State, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commission of any incorporated district, or any other officer or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of the State, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commission of any incorporated district, or any other officer or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of the State, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commission of any incorporated district, or any other officer or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of the State, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commission of any incorporated district, or any other officer or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of the State, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commission of any incorporated district, or any other officer or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of the State, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commission of any incorporated district, or any other officer or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of the State, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commission of any incorporated district, or any other officer or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of the State, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commission of any incorporated district, or any other officer or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of the State, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commission of any incorporated district, or any other officer or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of the State, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commission of any incorporated district, or any other officer or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of the State, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commission of any incorporated district, or any other officer or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of the State, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commission of any incorporated district, or any other officer or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of the State, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commission of any incorporated district, or any other officer or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of the State, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commission of any incorporated district, or any other officer or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of the State, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature, and

ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS

—There is a young man living in this town, and he wears a short black coat. His hair on his temples is plastered down, and his collar stands up round his throat. His hands are white and his trousers not tight. And his hair is the color of tan. The ladies all say as he passes their way: "O, me! What a nice young man!"

—Wild geese are flying.

—Gas bills are growing.

—Send in items of local news.

—The Pennsylvania railroad is building 6,000 new cars.

—Wellsville, Tioga county, has $16,000 bonded indebtedness.

—Smoke ascends to heaven from scores of piles of burning leaves.

—The total capitalization of the Western Union is $98,229,814.57.

—Ripe strawberries were picked in Tioga county a few days ago.

—Johnstown and all the nearby towns are to be known as Conemaugh City.

—Jacob Meiss, a Tusseyville farmer is lucky. He raised 375 bushels of potatoes.

—The temperature has already been lower than in October before for ten years.

—The monkey goes to the sunny side of the tree when he wants a warmer climb.

—There was good sleighing at Kane, Pa., on Wednesday. Ugh! what a country!

—There don't seem to be so many 100-pound pumpkins this year as there were last.

—The telephone line man is a rapid traveler, journeying from pole to pole every day.

—Now that General Hastings' improved residence is completed how do you like it?

—A sulky girl can sometimes be cured by taking her in a buggy just wide enough for two.

—All Hallow E'en comes on apace, and already the small boy is propelling handfuls of corn.

—Do not sorrow deeply over the troubles of this life. Life itself is as nothing compared with eternity.

—More than half the leaves are fallen and the bare branches now rear their skeletons toward the sky.

—Many orders were distributed to build walks by the first of November but very few are being built.

—B. T. Babbitt, the well known soap manufacturer, died in New York last Sunday. He was 80 years old.

—Celluloid is becoming more constantly in general use, but because of its inflammable nature it is dangerous.

—Now that the canning and fruit season is over a decline in the price of sugar is announced. 'Tis always thus.

—The Protestant Episcopal convention, which has been meeting in New York City, adjourned sine die on Thursday.

—An old maid said she wished she was an auctioneer, for it would be perfectly proper to say, "Make me an offer."

—That there will be plenty of snow on Thanksgiving day is likely, especially if the weather continues to become colder.

—William Gramley, a Sugar Valley, Clinton county, farmer, cut and bruised his left hand horribly in a separator machine.

—Does anyone looking down through Armor's Gap see the first gleam of the shining pickaxe as it makes a way for the new railroad?

—Centre county had deeper snow this week than any other community. At Spring Mills, on Wednesday morning, there was about two inches of it.

—There was a wedding in Philipsburg Thursday afternoon. The bridegroom is Mr. N. N. Davis, a jeweler of that place. The bride is Miss Mand Hudson, daughter of Robert Hudson, the saddler.

—Some people predict that Indian Summer is yet to come. We can only state from past experience in recent years that we have often waited for it, expecting it to come in November, but it came not.

—The Bellefonte and Sugar Valley Railroad will run from Bellefonte, through Nittany Valley, Sugar and White Deer Valleys to Watsonstown, a distance of 75 miles, and if it runs fast it will get there.

—Brooks Butler, son of Mrs. Sarah Butler of Philipsburg, was seriously hurt while hunting on Monday last week. Part of his right hand was blown off and he was wounded in the side by the accidental discharge of his gun.

—Apples are wonderfully scarce. Indeed, they are about as dear as oranges. When they are costly they always seem to taste better. But they are such a generally favorite fruit that their scarcity and high price is a real calamity.

—Centre county don't have fair, but her fair daughters take premiums in whatever they do. There was Miss Mary Kreisher, of Centre Hall. She drew a silk quilt premium of $1.50; a linen quilt premium of $1.00, and a linen handkerchief premium of 25 cents. All these articles were exhibited at the Union county fair.

WEDDING BELLS.

They Rang out Notes of Merry Music Thursday Evening.

Happiness is the most necessary element in a wedding ceremony. We believe that one of the principal objects of marriage is happiness, and though everything else be present, without happiness marriage may be said to be a failure. All who were present at the wedding on Thursday evening will testify that joy and happiness seemed to inspire every heart and pervade every presence.

It was the occasion of the marriage of John Gray Love, Esq., and Miss Nellie Maud Kline, daughter of ex-Sheriff and Mrs. D. Z. Kline, and was solemnized at Sheriff Kline's residence on Spring street. About fifty guests were present, one half of them being from a distance—Tyrone, Howard and Unionville, relatives respectively of the bride and groom of whom there are very many.

The four ushers were Prof. D. M. Lieb, Major J. L. Spangler, Messrs. Hard P. Harris and George Johnston. Miss Lillie Aikens played the wedding march very beautifully, and at exactly 7 o'clock the wedding party appeared, the four ushers leading the way. Grouping themselves around the officiating minister, Rev. W. A. Houck, the bride scene was complete. The entire company were in full dress, making the scene quite brilliant. The bride is a young lady who is more than ordinarily richly endowed with graces of person, disposition and heart—a figure that is fine, a face which is fair and pleasing, and manners which are winning and gracious. No wonder that the gallant young men were attracted to her and that no less a person than the talented and eloquent John G. Love, Esq., won her heart. He is the peer of any member of Bellefonte's excellent legal fraternity. He has a large practice, is forcible and eloquent as a speaker and his reputation is excellent in every respect.

The wedding ceremony was used. The bride was attired in a costume of light pearl color and wore a white tulle veil. She was the personification of a lovely bride. The groom looked his best, and as we have said, all looked enchantingly happy. The ushers escorted the guests to the bride and groom to express congratulations.

Refreshments were served by the ushers and the arrangement was especially convenient—no crowding or discomfort. The presents, which were beautiful and elegant, were admired by all. The groom's gift to his bride were pearl earrings with diamond setting. They departed on the evening train for a brief wedding tour. On their return they will reside in the groom's home on Linn street, which has been elaborately repaired and beautified for their reception. They have our congratulations and best wishes. Among Bellefonte guests present were Judge A. O. Furst and wife and Gen. D. H. Hastings and wife.

They were serenaded by the Bellefonte Band which played delightfully.

Leister-Swivel.

The young lady who was one of the partners in the contract described in the following extract is well known here. Miss Clara Anderson was in attendance at the wedding. We copy from the Huntingdon Daily Local News of Thursday:

Mr. John Leister, Jr., son of Mr. John Leister, shoe dealer of this place, was married on Tuesday afternoon to Miss Margaret Swivel, the estimable daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Swivel, at the residence of the bride's parents, by Rev. W. W. Anstadt. Ed. Swivel, brother of the bride was groomsmen, and Miss Ida Leister, bridesmaid. There was a large assemblage of invited guests, and at the conclusion of the eventful ceremony all partook of a magnificent collation. The happy couple were the recipients of numerous valuable and handsome presents, and have the best wishes of a host of admiring friends for a long and prosperous life. They left on the Fast Line for Lincoln, Nebraska, where the groom, who is a good practical printer, is partner in an extensive job printing establishment.

Wedded in Williamsport.

Here is a real interesting item which we find in the Philadelphia Press:

Charles W. Chambers and Miss Elsie Hastings, of Bellefonte, were married in Williamsport last week.

Both the contracting parties are well known and have our best wishes.

—We told you that Walter Bayard was about to follow the example of John G. Love, Esq., and Horace Mann and now come the papers proving that fact. The cards say that Miss Laura Strohm, of Centre Hill, and Walter W. Bayard, of Bellefonte, will be wedded on November 6 at 11:30 o'clock a. m. Happiness!

—President Roberts, of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, made a cheerful and most hopeful speech at a banquet in Pittsburgh, given in his honor by iron and steel manufacturers of that city. Mr. Roberts declared that after an inspection of the railroad system operated by his company in the course of which he had occasion to become familiar with the views of merchants and manufacturers in the industrial centres of the country, he had observed a marked increase in business prosperity, such as he had not witnessed on any former trip of the kind. In fact, wherever he went he found business "reviving" or "flourishing," and he was particularly impressed with the number of public and private enterprises involving the outlay of large sums of money.

Death of a Lady.

We are very sorry to note the death in Philadelphia, on Wednesday night, of Mrs. John T. Fowler, whither she had gone for medical aid. She was visited by six strokes of paralysis which resulted in her death. Mrs. Fowler was 66 years of age.

She was the esteemed wife of Mr. John T. Fowler, this county. We are sorry to learn of her decease.

The Tyrone Daily Herald of Thursday has this in reference to Mrs. Fowler: Word was received in town this morning to the effect that Mrs. John T. Fowler, who has been in ill health for some time, and who about two months ago had gone to the home of her brother, Peter V. Atkinson, in Philadelphia, for treatment, had died at this place last night of paralysis.

Mrs. Fowler was a woman of many excellent qualities of head and heart and there are not a few friends and acquaintances in Tyrone and vicinity who will hear of her sudden death with feelings of profound sorrow.

She came originally from Cecil county, Md., and at the age of about twenty-four years was married to John T. Fowler who was several years her senior. After her marriage she, together with her husband, lived at Camden until about the year 1870, when they moved to Philadelphia, at which place they made their home until the year 1872 or 1873, when they came to Tyrone, and afterward removed to what is now known as Fowler station on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad.

Mr. Fowler left Tyrone last night for Philadelphia, but he would not be able to reach there in time to see his wife alive.

The body will be brought to Tyrone on Pacific-express tomorrow morning, and the interment will take place in Tyrone cemetery.

Baby is Dead.

It is indeed with feelings full of sympathy that we announce the death of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Cassidy. Just one week ago baby came. On Thursday baby was laid in the silent grave. To-day baby is a redeemed soul and is with the One who seemed to lend it for only a little while. We also regret to know of the continued illness of the mother. May she be restored to health, and may comfort be found in the lines:

Yesterday baby came,
Dearest little baby!
Out of the womb here
Into the here.
Bare as a dewdrop,
Sweet as a lily,
Close in my bosom lay
Our baby dear.
Yesterday baby smiled;
Dear, dimpled baby!
Eyes full of contentment,
Face wreathed in sweet content,
Smile that the angels sent,
Our precious baby.
Yesterday baby died;
My only baby!
Softly the angels came,
Tenderly breathed her name,
Bore her back to Heaven again,
Our angel baby.

From Cameron County.

SINEMAHOING, October 23, 1889.

A young man named Beck, of Sinemaoning, tried to commit suicide there on the 15th instant. He was at McCabe's camp. He fired five shots from his revolver, two of which took effect in the rear part of his head. He has recovered. He is supposed to be insane.

Three brothers went out last Saturday to hunt for some game and one of them accidentally discharged his gun. The whole load entered his side and he is now in charge of Doctor Smith.

Willmot, Quinn, Sherman & Co. are doing quite a large business in dealing in lumber and bark. They employ about one hundred men.

Barclay Brothers have placed their mill in good running order again since the destruction by the flood. They saw from sixty to seventy thousand feet per day.

MOUNTAIN BOY.

Beautiful Specimen of Woodwork.

A. B. Steele on Wednesday had a very beautiful specimen of woodwork in the shape of a bureau, which was manufactured by two of the prisoners confined in the jail. Their names are McClenahan and DeArmitt and this work shows that they are very skillful. The bureau was made entirely of cigar boxes and is as pretty as anything that we can imagine. The drawers, the mirror above and all are complete and are elaborately finished and varnished. Of course it is small enough to easily carry in the hand. We also understood Mr. Steele to say that the only instrument used in the manufacture of the bureau was a pocket knife.

Letter List.

List of unclaimed letters remaining in the post office at Bellefonte, Centre Co., Penna., Oct. 21, 1889:

Mary E. Bartholomew, Miss Bertha Blair, S. F. Jones & Co., Robert F. Kelley, Mrs. Jennie Lucas, Mrs. Kate E. Mosser, Miss Elsie E. Orner, I. N. Shinsfelt, Harry Sarsay, James J. Wales, Miss Maggie Walters, Miss Sadie Wolf.

Persons inquiring for letters named in the above list will please say advertised.

JAS. H. DOBBS, P. M.

Trial List.

The following cases will come up for trial in court on the first week, beginning November 25:

P. Gray Meek vs. A. Hoy's exrs. Fortney for plaintiff, Love for defense.

Mrs. John Morgan vs. J. H. Lutz, Spangler & Hewes for plaintiff, C. Dale for defense.

J. H. Auman vs. J. W. Stam, Spangler & Hewes for plaintiff, Meyer for defense.

Mrs. Julia Walk vs. John S. Gray, Crosby for plaintiff, Fortney for defense.

R. V. Weaver vs. J. A. Cooper, Orvis, Bower & Orvis for plaintiff, Crosby for defense.

William Walker vs. Geo. B. Weaver, Orvis, Bower & Orvis for defense.

SECOND WEEK.

Rachel Shontz vs. Adam Moyer, Sr. Keller & Bryson for plaintiff, Orvis, Bower & Orvis for defense.

Kate Rhu vs. Israel Osman, Hastings & Reeder for plaintiff, Spangler & Hewes for defense.

L. H. Everts vs. A. J. Griest, Beaver, Gephart & Dale for plaintiff, Hastings & Reeder for defense.

C. A. Moyer use of, etc. vs. E. M. Sturdevant, Love for plaintiff, Orvis, Bower & Orvis and Beaver, Gephart & Dale for defense.

Bunnell & Aikens vs. Ellis L. Orvis, Spangler & Hewes for plaintiff, Orvis, Bower & Orvis for defense.

Lehigh Valley Coal Co. vs. Clearfield Bituminous Coal Corporation, Orvis, Bower & Orvis and Blanchard for plaintiff, Beaver, Gephart & Dale for defense.

E. C. Humes vs. Nittany Valley R. R. Co., Orvis, Bower & Orvis for plaintiff, Beaver, Gephart & Dale for defense.

A. V. Miller vs. John & William Bigler, Keller for plaintiff, Orvis, Bower & Orvis for defense.

Samuel Downings trustees et al vs. James L. Somerville, Beaver, Gephart & Dale for plaintiff.

Mercantile National Bank vs. B. Lauth, Orvis, Bower & Orvis and Harvey for plaintiff, Love for defense.

George W. Jackson vs. Nittany Valley R. R. Co., Hastings & Reeder for plaintiff, Beaver, Gephart & Dale for defense.

Elizabeth D. Kunes vs. H. H. Montgomery, Harper and Dale for plaintiff.

S. H. Heimselreich vs. Henry Krumpine's exrs., Linn for plaintiff, Orvis, Bower & Orvis for defense.

M. H. Guise vs. J. H. Bibby, Orvis Bower & Orvis for plaintiff, Spangler & Hewes for defense.

Frank McLaughlin vs. Centre Mining Co., Limited, Love for plaintiff, Orvis, Bower & Orvis for defense.

L. G. Kessler vs. Silas Blowers and wife, Hastings & Reeder for plaintiff, Spangler & Hewes for defense.

W. H. Pifer vs. Union County Mutual Live Stock Ins. Co., Orvis, Bower & Orvis for plaintiff, Harper, Guyer & Dale for defense.

John Curry vs. Bellefonte School District, Orvis, Bower & Orvis for plaintiff, Fortney for defense.

James Smith vs. Margaret A. Ritter, Ac., Spangler & Hewes for plaintiff, Beaver, Gephart & Dale for defense.

P. C. Frank vs. Levi Long, Harper and Heine for plaintiff, Spangler & Hewes for defense.

Evan Evan's heirs vs. Wm. Thompson et al., Orvis, Bower & Orvis for plaintiff, Beaver, Gephart & Dale for defense.

Allice Feltzer vs. Robert Cooke, Jr., C. Dale for plaintiff, Hastings and Reeder for defense.

National Park Bank, vs. Bernard Lauth, Orvis, Bower & Orvis for plaintiff, Love for defense.

Martha E. Zeigler et al vs. William Corman, Linn for plaintiff, Dill & Beale for defense.

John Molton vs. Amelia Johnston, et al., Strohm & Owens and Love for plaintiff, Hastings & Reeder for defense.

J. H. Bryan vs. Borough of Bellefonte, Fortney for plaintiff, C. Dale for defense.

Catharine Holt, decd. vs. A. R. Hall, etc., Harper and Dale for plaintiff, Keller for defense.

Ellen Levy et al vs. Mary Hall, Hastings & Reeder for plaintiff, C. Dale for defense.

Empire Coal Co. vs. Chipman & Holt, Orvis, Bower & Orvis for plaintiff, Hastings & Reeder for defense.

—The Huntingdon Local News says: "A party of hunters from Harrisburg have been stationed in Henderson township for several days spending the time in hunting for turkeys. On Wednesday last, a flock of turkeys was seen in a field near Adam Gerlock's residence, and one of the party named Harry Dean, either through wanton sport or ignorance deliberately shot nine of the turkeys, killing five and wounding four. Mr. Gerlock came to town and had a warrant issued for the arrest of Dean, who was captured by Constable Feltenberger on Friday and taken before Squire Kelly, who held the prisoner in the sum of $300, and in default of bail he was sent to jail."

—Thomas McCann a former brakeman on Tyrone division, but who has been engaged for the past three or four weeks on one of the railroads centering at McKeesport, this state, has just met with an accident which caused him the loss of his right foot, that useful member being amputated at the ankle joint. He was removed to one of the hospitals in Pittsburgh.

—The exercises of Howard Post, on Tuesday evening, were very interesting.

Comrade Cannon, of Tyrone, was present and entertained the audience very pleasantly. Rev. Owen Hicks also delighted everyone present.

Narrow Escape of a Philipsburg Young Lady.

The following is from the Lock Haven Express of Thursday:

There was a sensational scene at the Normal School yesterday afternoon and a Miss Downes of Philipsburg, had a narrow escape from being severely burned. Miss Downes, with other ladies and gentlemen, was returning from a recitation to their respective rooms. While passing through the corridor Miss Downes' clothing took fire and she was suddenly enveloped in flames. There was great excitement among the students for the moment, while the screams of the young lady resounded through the building. Some of the students with great presence of mind procured bed clothing and wrapping quilts and blankets about Miss Downes extinguishing the flames sufficiently to allow of her clothing being removed. The young lady escaped without serious injury, her lower limbs being only slightly burned. What caused her clothing to ignite is a mystery, and in the absence of any better theory the supposition is that she stepped upon a parlor match and set fire to her own clothing in that manner. The young lady certainly had a narrow escape from being seriously burned.

Pheasants, Squirrels, Bears.

James H. Ferguson, Renovo's Burgess, sometimes writes for the Forest and Stream and in this week's issue we find the following:

"The rapidity with which the pheasant can fly is certainly somewhat marvelous. One of these birds in taking a 'flier' on the north side mountain opposite the railroad shops here got his bearing a little too low, and in flight struck the window of a baggage car that was standing on the siding, going between the iron bars that are about four inches apart—and are placed on the windows of all baggage cars—broke the double thick French plate glass and was picked up by one of the workmen inside the car comparatively unharmed.

"The exodus of the squirrels is now being followed by the black bears, that have within the last week become numerous in our surrounding mountains. Quite a number have been seen by our hunters and four have been killed within the past week.

"The squirrels are still on the march southward, and fabulous stories come from Clearfield county, to the south of us, of hundreds of little fellows being killed by the boys with clubs and stones.

—The Baptist State Anniversaries were held at Lewisburg, Union county, this week. The sixty-second anniversary of the general association began at 2 o'clock on Wednesday. Rev. J. D. Smith of Oil City, led in the opening prayer, after which Hon. Charles Miller, of Franklin, the president of the body, made an opening address, suggesting methods by which more money might be secured for this important work, so greatly needed in the state. The committees were announced. Rev. N. C. Noyes was placed upon that on place and preacher for next session; K. A. Lovell, esq., of Huntingdon, on that of nominations; Rev. W. J. Coulton, of Hollidaysburg, was made chairman of that on digest of letters, and Rev. S. F. Forges, of Bellwood, of that on obituaries for next year.

Rev. Father Farran, pastor of the Roman Catholic congregation in Tyrone, is about to remove to Cambria City.

—The following is from the Huntingdon Local News:

"A party of hunters from Harrisburg have been stationed in Henderson township for several days spending the time in hunting for turkeys. On Wednesday last, a flock of turkeys was seen in a field near Adam Gerlock's residence, and one of the party named Harry Dean, either through wanton sport or ignorance deliberately shot nine of the turkeys, killing five and wounding four. Mr. Gerlock came to town and had a warrant issued for the arrest of Dean, who was captured by Constable Feltenberger on Friday and taken before Squire Kelly, who held the prisoner in the sum of $300, and in default of bail he was sent to jail."

—Thomas McCann a former brakeman on Tyrone division, but who has been engaged for the past three or four weeks on one of the railroads centering at McKeesport, this state, has just met with an accident which caused him the loss of his right foot, that useful member being amputated at the ankle joint. He was removed to one of the hospitals in Pittsburgh.

—The exercises of Howard Post, on Tuesday evening, were very interesting.

—The following is from the Huntingdon Local News:

"A party of hunters from Harrisburg have been stationed in Henderson township for several days spending the time in hunting for turkeys. On Wednesday last, a flock of turkeys was seen in a field near Adam Gerlock's residence, and one of the party named Harry Dean, either through wanton sport or ignorance deliberately shot nine of the turkeys, killing five and wounding four. Mr. Gerlock came to town and had a warrant issued for the arrest of Dean, who was captured by Constable Feltenberger on Friday and taken before Squire Kelly, who held the prisoner in the sum of $300, and in default of bail he was sent to jail."

—Thomas McCann a former brakeman on Tyrone division, but who has been engaged for the past three or four weeks on one of the railroads centering at McKeesport, this state, has just met with an accident which caused him the loss of his right foot, that useful member being amputated at the ankle joint. He was removed to one of the hospitals in Pittsburgh.

—The exercises of Howard Post, on Tuesday evening, were very interesting.

—The following is from the Huntingdon Local News:

"A party of hunters from Harrisburg have been stationed in Henderson township for several days spending the time in hunting for turkeys. On Wednesday last, a flock of turkeys was seen in a field near Adam Gerlock's residence, and one of the party named Harry Dean, either through wanton sport or ignorance deliberately shot nine of the turkeys, killing five and wounding four. Mr. Gerlock came to town and had a warrant issued for the arrest of Dean, who was captured by Constable Feltenberger on Friday and taken before Squire Kelly, who held the prisoner in the sum of $300, and in default of bail he was sent to jail."

—Thomas McCann a former brakeman on Tyrone division, but who has been engaged for the past three or four weeks on one of the railroads centering at McKeesport, this state, has just met with an accident which caused him the loss of his right foot, that useful member being amputated at the ankle joint. He was removed to one of the hospitals in Pittsburgh.

—The exercises of Howard Post, on Tuesday evening, were very interesting.

—The following is from the Huntingdon Local News:

"A party of hunters from Harrisburg have been stationed in Henderson township for several days spending the time in hunting for turkeys. On Wednesday last, a flock of turkeys was seen in a field near Adam Gerlock's residence, and one of the party named Harry Dean, either through wanton sport or ignorance deliberately shot nine of the turkeys, killing five and wounding four. Mr. Gerlock came to town and had a warrant issued for the arrest of Dean, who was captured by Constable Feltenberger on Friday and taken before Squire Kelly, who held the prisoner in the sum of $300, and in default of bail he was sent to jail."

—Thomas McCann a former brakeman on Tyrone division, but who has been engaged for the past three or four weeks on one of the railroads centering at McKeesport, this state, has just met with an accident which caused him the loss of his right foot, that useful member being amputated at the ankle joint. He was removed to one of the hospitals in Pittsburgh.

—The exercises of Howard Post, on Tuesday evening, were very interesting.

—The following is from the Huntingdon Local News:

"A party of hunters from Harrisburg have been stationed in Henderson township for several days spending the time in hunting for turkeys. On Wednesday last, a flock of turkeys was seen in a field near Adam Gerlock's residence, and one of the party named Harry Dean, either through wanton sport or ignorance deliberately shot nine of the turkeys, killing five and wounding four. Mr. Gerlock came to town and had a warrant issued for the arrest of Dean, who was captured by Constable Feltenberger on Friday and taken before Squire Kelly, who held the prisoner in the sum of $300, and in default of bail he was sent to jail."

—Thomas McCann a former brakeman on Tyrone division, but who has been engaged for the past three or four weeks on one of the railroads centering at McKeesport, this state, has just met with an accident which caused him the loss of his right foot, that useful member being amputated at the ankle joint. He was removed to one of the hospitals in Pittsburgh.

—The exercises of Howard Post, on Tuesday evening, were very interesting.

—The following is from the Huntingdon Local News:

"A party of hunters from Harrisburg have been stationed in Henderson township for several days spending the time in hunting for turkeys. On Wednesday last, a flock of turkeys was seen in a field near Adam Gerlock's residence, and one of the party named Harry Dean, either through wanton sport or ignorance deliberately shot nine of the turkeys, killing five and wounding four. Mr. Gerlock came to town and had a warrant issued for the arrest of Dean, who was captured by Constable Feltenberger on Friday and taken before Squire Kelly, who held the prisoner in the sum of $300, and in default of bail he was sent to jail."

—Thomas McCann a former brakeman on Tyrone division, but who has been engaged for the past three or four weeks on one of the railroads centering at McKeesport, this state, has just met with an accident which caused him the loss of his right foot, that useful member being amputated at the ankle joint. He was removed to one of the hospitals in Pittsburgh.

—The exercises of Howard Post, on Tuesday evening, were very interesting.

—The following is from the Huntingdon Local News:

"A party of hunters from Harrisburg have been stationed in Henderson township for several days spending the time in hunting for turkeys. On Wednesday last, a flock of turkeys was seen in a field near Adam Gerlock's residence, and one of the party named Harry Dean, either through wanton sport or ignorance deliberately shot nine of the turkeys, killing five and wounding four. Mr. Gerlock came to town and had a warrant issued for the arrest of Dean, who was captured by Constable Feltenberger on Friday and taken before Squire Kelly, who held the prisoner in the sum of $300, and in default of bail he was sent to jail."

—Thomas McCann a former brakeman on Tyrone division, but who has been engaged for the past three or four weeks on one of the railroads centering at McKeesport, this state, has just met with an accident which caused him the loss of his right foot, that useful member being amputated at the ankle joint. He was removed to one of the hospitals in Pittsburgh.

—The exercises of Howard Post, on Tuesday evening, were very interesting.

Only Temperance Bitters Known.

VINEGAR BITTERS

PURELY VEGETABLE. FREE FROM ALCOHOL.

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS

The Only Non-Alcoholic Vegetable Medicine put up in Liquid Form ever discovered.

It is not a vile fancy drink made of rum, poor whisky, or refuse liquors, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, but a purely vegetable preparation, made from native California herbs.

Twenty-five years ago we demonstrated to millions of sufferers throughout the civilized world, that of all the medicines ever discovered, Vinegar Bitters only possesses perfect and wonderful curative effects upon those troubled with the following diseases, viz:

Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Neuralgia, Headache, Bile, Scrofula, Skin Diseases, Jaundice, Gout, Piles, Biliousness, and all other diseases arising from blood impurities, and as a Vermifuge it is the best in the world, being death to all worms that infest the human system.

It is always safe to take at any time, or under any condition of the system, for old or young or for either sex. It is put up in two styles. The old is slightly bitter, and is the stronger in cathartic effect. The new style is very pleasant to the taste and a perfect medicine for delicate women or children. Each kind is distinctly marked on top of cartons.

Many families keep both kinds on hand, as they form a complete medicine chest.

As a Family Medicine, for the use of ladies, children and men of sedentary habits, the New Style Vinegar Bitters has no equal in the world. It is invaluable for curing the diseases to which women are so generally subject, and it is a safe and gentle regulator of the system.

Ladies, get a bottle from your druggist and try it. If your drugg

Bellefonte Republican, Local Department.

—Coons are very numerous around Renovo.

—The chestnut crop has all been gathered.

—Raspberries were sold in the Eastern markets last week.

—Vote for the entire Republican county and state ticket.

—Burglars still continue unmolested their depredations in Tyrone.

—Correspondents wanted in every locality in this county for this paper.

—There is a good opening in Bellefonte for half a dozen good paying industries.

—Typhoid fever is said to be prevalent in Union township, and several cases have proven fatal.

—The second story of Dr. Hale's new building over the race is being arranged for tenement apartments.

—A very interesting and profitable religious service is being held at Warriors Mark, Huntingdon county.

—Sunday was a wet and dreary day and the consequence thereof was a small attendance of church going people.

—Call at the Daily News office and plant your fall and winter advertisements and you will reap a good crop of customers.

—The Pennsylvania railroad employes are still engaged in arranging and beautifying the grounds around the new depot.

—This office is now prepared to do job work with neatness and dispatch. When you have any job work to do give us a trial.

—The Pennsylvania Railroad has just completed a new paint shop in Altoona and the papers of that city fill columns with vivid descriptions of its convenience and magnificence.

—Two Peach Creek hunters, Messrs. Quigley and Clark, killed a bear near that place last Friday. Another bear that was in the woods whipped three dogs and chased the men up a tree.

—There is nothing so elastic as the human mind. Like imprisoned steam, the more it is pressed the more it rises to resist the pressure. The more we are obliged to do, the more are able to accomplish.

—Pheasants are very numerous on the mountains around Lock Haven and are bringing quite a high price in market. One sale is recorded of one dozen for five dollars or more than forty cents apiece.

—The new directory at Johnstown records 36 grocery stores and 55 saloons. If this is to be taken as an indication of what the people's wants are it might be proof evident that they want to do more drinking than eating.

—When you know of a good news item bring or send it to this office. If you have friends visiting you or you are going away on business or pleasure, if apprised of the fact this paper will make a note of it.

—Truth often finds its way to the mind close muffled in robes of sleep, and then speaks with uncompromising directness of matters in regard to which we practice an unconscious self-deception during our waking moments.

—The richest genius, like the most fertile soil, when cultivated shoots up into the rank weeds, and instead of vines and olives for the pleasure and use of man, produces to its slothful owner the most abundant crop of poisons.

—Near Point View on Canoe mountain, Blair county, last Saturday afternoon Lloyd Harnish, son of Mr. Peter Harnish, a prominent citizen of Yellow Springs, was unintentionally shot dead by Benjamin A. Cooper, of Williamsburg who mistook the young man for a wild turkey.

—The New York World's Florence Italy, correspondent telegraphed five columns published in that paper yesterday explaining the reason James G. Blaine wrote his celebrated Florence letter declining to run for the Presidency of the United States. The entire reason in a nut shell was had health.

—All day yesterday the post office was crowded with workmen, window sash and glass, and the result thereof is apparent this morning. From the top of the partition up to the ceiling extends a division of glass intended to keep the cold out and the heat in. The next thing will be to remove the outside radiator and this winter freeze out loafers.

—A newspaper is strong with the public when the people see that it takes public positions solely for public reasons and never for private rewards. When the people come to know that a newspaper is printed to be a newspaper and not a machine to get its proprietors public offices or personal honors, they learn to have faith in it as a public journal.

—An eight-year-old daughter of Emory Stover and wife of Warriorsmark township, died yesterday morning of diphtheria and was buried in Tyrone cemetery this morning, the funeral leaving the parents' home at nine o'clock. This is the second child with which these parents have been called upon to part within a few weeks.

FROM COLLEGE TOWNSHIP.

"Observer" Gives Good Advice then Talks Prohibition.

Mr. Editor.—I wish to say a few words to farmers on crops and stock—more particularly the latter. The most important subject at this time of year, I think, next to prohibition, is the preparation for the comfort and care of stock especially cattle and sheep, during the coming winter season. The horse and pig are generally well sheltered, fed and well cared for by most all farmers, but young cattle and sheep are too often neglected by being left to help themselves in open out-door winter at the straw stack or in the field of corn stalks. We all know from experience that it is more humane and profitable to feed well the horse and pig and keep them under good shelter in cold weather and why not all animals? Treat all alike; it is more pleasant. If it pays for one kind and I know it does, it will for another.

One excuse generally given is "no stable room and it don't pay to build sheds." I say it does pay both morally and financially.

I say, brother farmers, this is a good year to reform and feel thankful. You must all have had good crops and plenty of feed this year. Now be kind to your stock this winter. They will, with all their animal instinct, thank you for kindness, and, in addition, will bring you more money next year—a reform very much needed in Central Pennsylvania.

Is it not strange when we see farmers haul so many big loads of hay and corn fodder that they can endure to see their poor young cattle almost starve? And the big ears of corn this year, only think. One farmer hauled 118 bushels of ears in six hours on his own farm. I feel pretty sure that he is a Prohibition Republican and will vote for none but temperance men the coming election.

One crop more. Fruit of all kinds, both wild and cultivated, was plenty except the apple crop. It was almost a failure in quality, what there was only being suitable for making cider, which this season demands a good price.

The great revival of prohibition in our township last summer undoubtedly helped that branch of production belonging to farming as fruit and cider have been high and most all other crops low in price.

I hope the readers of your valuable paper will excuse the digression if I stray from the farm to discussing prohibition as I think the two work together and to each other's advantage. I know we gained much by agitating the subject and working hard as we did to defeat and overthrow the making and selling of spirituous liquors as a beverage within our State. Our country and many others voted it down by large majorities but in the cities King Alcohol reigned supreme. We pray the time is not far distant when all our state will arise and put away the temptation to habitually use the cursed stuff, something more ruinous now yet dreadful enough in all past ages of this our beloved land. It costs our country more than all other evils put together. I know many men who loved whiskey and beer before the election last summer at that time voted for prohibition and have since kept sober and good citizens.

We have many examples here that are proof to all that we should at the coming November election vote for none but temperance men.

OBSERVER.

Christian Endeavor Society to Meet.

The Pennsylvania State Union of the Young People's Societies of Christian Endeavor, will hold its third annual Convention in the Market Square Presbyterian Church, Harrisburg, on the 26th, 30th and 31st of this month. Governor Beaver will open the Convention with an address of welcome, and with Mrs. Beaver, will give a reception to the young people at the Executive Mansion on the second evening.

Addresses will be made by Rev. Geo. B. Stewart, H. B. Crose, State Superintendent, Dr. F. E. Clark of Boston, President of the National Society, Robert J. Burdette and others. Dr. Wayland Hoyt will preach the Convention sermon. Prof. W. R. Harper, of Yale University, will speak on "Some Kinds of Bible Study."

The railroads and hotels offer reduced rates. A large and enthusiastic gathering is expected.

Rev. J. Benson Akers Dead.

A telegram from Bellwood received at the Tribune office at twenty minutes after 2 o'clock on Monday containing a brief announcement of the death of Rev. J. Benson Akers, which occurred at five minutes past 11 o'clock last night. Deceased was aged 60 years.—Altoona Tribune.

Mr. Akers was well known by almost every person in Bellefonte. He has at various times contributed articles to this paper. His death will be greatly lamented by his many friends.

In North Dakota three counties and in South Dakota five counties on their own statements are in a destitute condition from the failure of crops for several successive years past, from drought, etc. The rush to these two new States is liable to turn out something of an Oklahoma affair.

ANOTHER HORRIBLE FATALITY.

Grim Death Gathered a Harvest of Five on Sunday Night.

Four men were killed and one fatally injured late Sunday evening at Irwin Pa., while engaged in playing a social game of cards. As near as now known the particulars are about as follows:

On Sunday afternoon they were near the depot at Irwin and as it was raining hard they decided to while away the time with a quiet game of cards. There being no other place to go to they rigged up a board under a freight car and were soon deeply engrossed in the mysteries of the game.

Late in the evening a switching engine backed a lot of cars on the siding which struck violently against the end of the train farthest from where the men were sitting. Instantly the trucks bore down on the doomed men and four of them were killed outright and one was fatally wounded. The names of the killed are James and Thomas Thompson, Robert Robinson and Sampson Emmons; the wounded man was Benjamin Stubbs. The killed were all horribly mangled—cut, crushed and bruised almost beyond recognition. Only a shred of skin held Robinson's head to his lacerated trunk. For ten feet along the track from where the men were sitting, rails, ties and cinders were completely hidden by a coating of human blood, flesh and bones.

All the men were single and about 30 years of age, except Thomas Thompson who was 40 years old, was married and leaves a wife and three children.

No blame is attached to anyone by the railroad men, as the victims had not been seen after they started off to play cards until their mangled bodies were found. They all worked in the coal mines at Irwin.

Improvements in Base Ball.

Says an exchange: "Now that the baseball season is about ended, the newspapers are full of advice for the future conduct of the game. There are many minor points in which the game could be changed to make it more interesting to the public. These changes should all be in the direction of securing more hitting and more base running. But the two great reforms that are needed to make the game more popular are the abolition of kicking and coaching. No man, be he captain or private, should be allowed to dispute the umpire's decision. One captain as has been shown this season in many games—can kick until the spectators are too disgusted to remain in their seats. An umpire never alters his decision, and kicking is simply a waste of time that has grown disagreeable to baseball spectators. Coaching should be entirely done away with. As it is now done, it is intended only to rattle the pitcher and catcher. If coaching is allowed at all, the line cannot be drawn between legitimate coaching and shouting for another purpose. Coaching should, therefore, be entirely abolished. If the baseball managers decide to make these changes, they will make the game very much more interesting to the general public."

—On Thanksgiving Day the ceremonies attendant upon the unveiling of the statue to the memory of Thomas A. Armstrong will take place in Pittsburgh. Mr. Armstrong was one of the best known labor leaders of his day in Pennsylvania and was at one time senior proprietor of the National Labor Tribune. He was a printer by trade, a member of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel workers and also a prominent Knight of Labor. The printers of Pittsburgh desire to make this a noteworthy occasion and all printers are urged to be present.

Hallow Even.

Next Thursday will be October 31st, on the evening of which day spooks are said to walk the earth and supernatural visions are to be seen, and which is also devoted by mischievous urchins to throwing corn against windows, ringing door bells, removing pouches, gates and signs from their fastenings, and playing all sorts of pranks. The youngsters of the borough are all looking anxiously forward to this evening, and will turn out in full force to assist the mystic denizens of the upper ether in their nefarious work.

New York the Winner.

New York, October 29.—The league champions won to-day's game after an exciting contest. Summary: New York 100000110-3 Brooklyn 200000000-2 Hits, New York 8, Brooklyn 4. Errors, New York 3, Brooklyn 2. Batteries, Terry and Bushong, O'Day and Ewing.

THE RECORD.

	Won	Lost	Cont.
New York	8	2	566
Brooklyn	3	5	353

—Recently a corn husking machine was operated on the farm of T. B. Wetzel near Lock Haven and did satisfactory work. The cornstalks were fed through the machine butts first as fast as one man could handle them. The stalks were cut and crushed by the machine and the corn delivered into a wagon. A large crowd of farmers and others were present to witness the test of the machine, and the impression left upon them was that the old slow process of husking corn by hand is about drawing to a close.

GUBERNATORIAL GALLERY.

Pleasant Paragraphs Pointly Put Pertaining to Pennsylvania's Adjutant General.

The Philadelphia Times has lately been publishing biographies of talked of candidates for the Governorship next year and on Saturday printed a two-column sketch of the life of our eminent townsman, General DH Hastings, prepared especially for that paper by the historian John B. Linn.

The sketch is a well written article and a very clear portrayal of what pluck and energy even associated with poverty can accomplish.

Gen. Hastings is of Scotch-Irish descent, both his parents having emigrated from the foreign lands, was born near Salona, Clinton county, on the 26th day of February, 1849, so that he is now in his 41st year.

His early life was spent on the farm in Nittany Valley until 14 years of age when he solicited and obtained a school to teach. Just here let us remark that his first day as a school teacher was spent without a cent in his pocket or a mouthful to eat. He taught village schools for four years and in 1867 was elected principal of the High School in this place which position he held until 1875. Two years of this time Mr. Hastings was assistant editor of the Republican. He was admitted to the Centre county bar in 1875 and in 1878 the present law firm of Hastings & Reeder was established by associating with himself W. F. Reeder, Esq.

A detailed description of Gen. Hastings' military career then follows but it is too well known by Centre county people to demand reprinting. His political life is also well known but the following descriptions of the part he took in the National Convention last year will be read with pleasure:

"Sherman was best put in the field. The Pennsylvania man who lives in the little mountain town of Bellefonte made the best speech which has been heard at this display. It was worthy of being the party platform. Hastings who made it, they say will some day be heard in the Senate or run for Governor."

Murat Halstead, of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, wrote his paper: "As to the reception of the presentation of nominations, there was no marked preference shown for any candidate until the splendid oration of General Hastings of Pennsylvania, nominating Sherman. Then things took a more decided shape. General Hastings has a magnificent appearance and delivery, and his superb ringing sentences fell one after another, bright as new coin, each word clear as a bugle note; the mighty multitude felt the magic of oratory, of a man speaking worthily on a great occasion. There never was a finer speech made on such an occasion, and I remember Ingersoll's nomination of Blaine at Cincinnati. General Hastings walks up at once to a place among the few of our public speakers."

So marked was the impression made that he was complimented by being called by the presiding officer to hold the gavel over that great assembly for the day and invited to second the nomination of Hon. Levi P. Morton for Vice President. It followed as a matter of no doubt that he was the favorite orator of the campaign that came after. He spoke in behalf of the nominees and in defense of the principles of the Republican party in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Michigan, and retired from his labors with success crowning his efforts and with the confidence of all the great leaders of the party. Only a short allusion to his services after the unparalleled disaster at Johnstown is proper in this paper, as the newspapers carved the details of the work there in never fading lines, while his wonderful sagacity, his good judgment and his kind heart cast a pleasant sunshine over that appalling gloom.

General Hastings' fearlessness and independence are better known to the people of his own town. His practical acquaintance and thorough sympathy with all that concerns the public welfare, his readiness to respond to every just call upon him as a citizen and as a man at whatever sacrifices have had a thorough public test and the whole career of his life affords an example worthy of imitation. Nothing but the louder cry of his country ever came in conflict with his duty to his parents; as a teacher he was painstaking, considerate and successful; as a lawyer he brings to the discharge of his duties honesty and earnestness of purpose, commendable zeal and energy, good judgment, strong convictions of duty and great knowledge of the law. In official position he has been equal to every emergency that arose and in all cases brought great credit to the offices he has thus far been intrusted with.

As a citizen, he is clever, generous and universally popular, and in thorough and complete sympathy with the people. No one hesitates to ask him for a favor; for his disposition is gentle and obliging, entertaining and agreeable in conversation, he is a citizen of sterling worth and exemplary in the discharge of all his social duties. His successful industry, ability and integrity recommend him as justly entitled to the suffrages of the people of this Commonwealth for the high office of Governor.

Personal Penclings

J. C. Harper, Esq., spent Tuesday in Philadelphia.

Harry Jenkins, of this place, spent Thursday in Tyrone with his friends.

Mr. J. H. Blake, of Lock Haven, is now on duty as foreman in this office.

F. Wayland, Esq., who is now in charge of the Philadelphia Weekly Press, gave this office a pleasant call on Monday.

C. M. Bower, Esq., has been attending a Reformed church gathering at Allentown this week.

Mrs. W. R. Jenkins has gone to Curwensville, Pa., to visit at the home of Mrs. Harry Teats.

Mr. Ruben H. Smith who was lately associated with this paper, has accepted a position in Huntingdon.

Mr. John Kenyon, of Philipsburg, spent last night in Bellefonte on his way home from Williamsport.

James Shannon, of East Tyrone, has accepted a position on the Buffalo and Erie Railroad commencing his work Monday morning.

Sheriff Cooke made a tour of the lower part of the county on Tuesday and reports everything fair in that direction and politics booming.

Mr. Israel Sternberg, formerly of Washington, D. C., and later of Chicago, is at present in Bellefonte and expects to remain here during the winter.

Mrs. George Wooden and Miss Beulah Smith, of Bellefonte, are at present guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wooden at the City Hotel.—Tyrone Herald.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Gerberich, who made a pleasant visit to their daughter, Mrs. C. U. Hoffer, in Philipsburg, have returned to their home in this place.

Mr. Maynard, of Williamsport who has been enjoying the hospitalities of Gen. Hastings home on Allegheny street departed on the late train Tuesday night.

Prof. George P. Bible has been making a tour through Smithport, Driftwood and adjoining places giving entertainments. He will give one in Lock Haven in November.

John G. Love, the Bellefonte lawyer, is at the Girard with his bride. Mr. Love is the leading lawyer in Centre county and devotes his entire time and attention to the pursuit of his profession.—Philadelphia Times.

Mr. Chas. T. Noll, one of Bellefonte's best young men and employed as a lightning "grabber" by the telephone exchange at Bellefonte, who has been visiting his friend and schoolmate, H. U. Tibbens, in this city, for a few days returned to his home this morning. He is a nice fellow.—Monday's Altoona Mirror.

Mr. John Gartland, of Roaring Spring, has again broken his record as a corn husker. On the farm of Ed Lower, in Taylor township, on Thursday, October 24, he husked 155 bushels of corn and tied up his own fodder. If any one in the state thinks he can beat this, he can meet Mr. Gartland in the field any day during the husking season.

Robert J. Haynes and wife and their noted son, William R., the mighty hunter, have left Snow Shoe temporarily to visit friends in Kansas and Missouri, among others Dr. Bill Rothrock, and to shoot prairie chickens in the wilds of the Indian Territory. During Bill Haynes' absence George Uzzle will be the champion hunter in Snow Shoe. So says our friend Judge Allison.—Lock Haven Daily Democrat.

Dr. G. W. Bressler, now of York, Pa., gave this office a very pleasant call this morning. Thirty-four years ago Dr. Bressler was a resident of Bellefonte and will be remembered by the oldest citizens as one of the best dentists of his day. His father was a resident of Mill Hall, Clinton county and quite a large business man. He built and owned the Mill Hall iron works, a couple stores and possessed considerable land in that vicinity. It is now twenty years since Dr. Bressler has been in Bellefonte and the many changes wrought since that time seems to him marvelous. He then traveled to Bellefonte in a stage coach instead of on rail.

On last Saturday Mr. Newton S. Bailey, who has for the past eight years filled the position of local editor of the Daily News and Republican, severed his connection with this office. Mr. Bailey has always been a careful, conservative and pains-taking editor and the staff lost a valuable writer with his retirement. Mr. Bailey intends, after a few days spent in Bellefonte, to journey west as far as Galesburg, Illinois, where he has a brother now residing, and it is not at all improbable that at no very distant day he will be heard from in some western journalistic enterprise. He is a deserving young man and we wish him success whence he goes and at whatever he undertakes to do.

—The Pittsburgh, Beech Creek and New York Railroad Company was chartered on Thursday. Capital, $1,500,000. The line runs from Mill Hall, Centre county, to Butler Pa., a distance of 150 miles, and is supposed to connect with the Bellefonte and Eastern Railroad at Bellefonte. Lorenzo Everett, of Watsonburg, is President of the company.

—The Johnstown fund for searching for their own dead now amounts to eight thousand dollars.

REV. J. BENSON AKERS.

A BRIEF SKETCH OF HIS MINISTERIAL LIFE.

On Monday a brief announcement was given of the death of Rev. J. Benson Akers. The following brief sketch of his life is copied from the Altoona Tribune:

Mr. Akers was born in Akersville, Fulton county, on February 3, 1829, and at the time of death was aged 60 years, 8 months and 24 days.

He graduated from Dickinson college in 1853 and immediately entered the East Baltimore conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. The following are appointments which he filled: Shrewsbury, 1858-9; York Springs, 1860-1; Catawissa, 1862; Sharpburg and Clear Spring, 1863-4; Mercersburg, 1865-6; Liberty, 1867-8; Freedom, 1869; Port Matilda, 1870. In 1871 he was principal of Catawissa seminary, and he then filled the following appointments: White Haven, 1872-3; Hiner's Run, 1874-6; Howard, 1877-9; Penn's Valley, 1880-1; Glenn Hope, 1882-4; Bellwood, 1885-6; Shrewsbury, 1887-8. In 1889 he was superannuated. He was assistant secretary of the East Baltimore conference several years and when the Central Pennsylvania conference was formed filled a similar position under Dr. D. S. Monroe, the secretary.

His ministerial work ended where it began, at Shrewsbury, York county. After thirty-one years of faithful toil in the church of his choice, he asked a superannuated relation and removed to his home at Bellwood to enjoy his well-earned rest. But on the 2d of April he was stricken with paralysis and rallied but slowly through the summer, only to sink peacefully to rest with the falling of the autumn leaves. He was conscious of his approaching departure and had "set his house in order" in every particular. With the words "Praise the Lord," "Almost home," he passed from labor to reward.

He leaves a wife, a daughter and two sons and a little adopted daughter to mourn the loss which is his infinite gain.

The funeral services will be held in Bellwood to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Akers was a man of singular modesty. He made no claims, but all who knew him understood the sincerity of his motive, the purity of his character and the value of his labors. Every good cause had in him an earnest champion. His life record is his best monument.

A New Safety Car.

A new fire-proof car that will not burn, telescope, or break up in a collision is being experimented with by the Pennsylvania Railroad. The car is all iron or steel. The roof, sides and ends of the car are made of boiler plate riveted together. It is somewhat in the shape of a horse shoe, the round part being the top. In the bottom are several steel girdles placed in cement much the same as in Pullman cars. Along the sides is an array of windows, precisely similar to those of ordinary passenger coaches. The top of the car is destitute of heavy roof and ventilating arrangements that are seen on ordinary cars. Ventilation is secured by pumping air into the car through pipes. These in winter are arranged so as to furnish warm air. If, on testing it, the company finds that it will run smoothly and be comfortable for the occupants, it will be adopted.

Menu for To-morrow.

BREAKFAST.
Fruit,
Oatmeal, sugar and cream,
Broiled Sweetbreads, tomato sauce,
Boiled Eggs,
Soda biscuit, Coffee.
LUNCH.
Thin slices of cold beef,
Sliced tomatoes,
Watercress,
Coddled apples, Sunshine cake,
Tea.
DINNER.
Bisque of Oysters,
Ragout of cold beef with mushrooms,
Duchess potatoes, Cauliflower,
Buttered beets,
Lettuce salad, French dressing,
Wafers, Cheese,
Sugared oranges and bananas,
Coffee.

—A well-known writer says: "Would a well-bred girl, possessed of the slightest sensibility or sense, divulge the fact that she had been proposed to by a man, and that she had refused him? I have asked this question of several girls, and also of several married women, and, while their answers were varying, I am confident, from what I know of their characters, that the well-bred girl of honor and sensibility would never upon the weightiest pretext, disclose what had passed between herself and a man upon so delicate a subject. The unsuccessful suitor is a man who receives very little sympathy, and usually there is none more deserving of it than he."

This jury in the McElvaine case in Brooklyn wisely concluded that a man who was sane enough to plan a burglary was sane enough to hang for the murder of his victim. Householders will breathe easier for the verdict.

—What is more provoking than to run after an expressman who is apparently hard of hearing and in addition is driving like the wind?